Allies Draft Answer To Khrushchev Plan

Britain Hopes For Agreement On Conference

Macmillan Tells Commons Nation
Won't be Panicked

London —P— Britain is anxious to arrange a summit conference, Prime Minister Macmillan said today, but is trying not to be panicked.

"We must neither be foolishly swift nor obstinately slow," Macmillan told the house of commons. "I will try my best not to be panicked."

Labor party chieftains are leading a move to get to the summit quickly and stop what they call a drift toward war. Macmillan made it clear he is in consultation with Britain's allies on the answer to be sent Premier Khrushchev's invitation to hold an immediate meeting.

The new hearing involving Adams has no connection with Bernard Goldfine, millionaire Boston textileman who was the target of a sensation-studded investigation concluded last week by another house subcommittee.

New Group to Probe Pressure Charges

Closed Sessions Will be Followed by Public Hearings

Washington —P— A new set of house investigators goes behind closed doors today to look into new allegations of White House pressure tactics reportedly involving Sherman Adams.

Chairman F. Edward Hebert, (D - La) of the house armed services investigations subcommittee said the witnesses will testify in secret, at least at first. However, open hearings are expected to follow.

Among the first witnesses will be Roswell M. Austin, retired member of the armed services board of contract appeals, which last year cut to $8,500 a $49,784 wartime penalty against a New England textile firm for late delivery of fabric for army uniforms.

Austin, who received a subpoena from the committee Saturday, says he heard so much talk of White House interest in the case "it made me boil."

The White House denies that Adams, President Eisenhower's chief aide, pulled any strings in behalf of the firm—the now defunct Rayline Worsted, Inc., of Manchester, N.H. The White House said Adams, a former New Hampshire governor, merely relayed queries and replies as a matter of routine.

Leo Wolff, a former Rayline president, also denied that Adams exerted any influence. However, Wolff acknowledged Kaukauna, a former New Hampshire governor, wrote the White House about the case.

Over the weekend, the Pentagon indicated the subcommittee will be told that the penalty reduction against Rayline resulted from peacetime afterthoughts rather than intervention by Adams.

Documents released by the defense department said the appeals board found some of Rayline's delay in delivering on the $653,500 contract resulted from slowness in the delivery of textile machine parts.

U. S. Wants to Reject Call For Summit Conference Outside United Nations

Washington —P— The White House announced today that the United States, Britain and France have started drafting a reply to the Khrushchev proposal for an emergency summit conference on the Middle East.

The United States, it was learned, has proposed to Britain and France a draft which would definitely turn down the Soviet premier's call for an immediate meeting outside the United Nations and would keep Middle East diplomacy concentrated in the UN Security Council.

The U. S. version would counter the sensational Soviet note of last Saturday with a proposal that Khrushchev take to the security council his charge that the United States and Britain endangered peace by putting troops into Lebanon and Jordan.

British, French Agree Britain and France were reported in agreement with the United States on this general line of approach—which would very likely result in a high level security council meeting of either foreign ministers or chiefs of government. But there appeared to be some difference, at least of emphasis, between Washington and the two European capitals on how hard to plug the idea of an early summit conference either inside or outside the U.N. The British government, particularly, is under heavy pressure from its labor party opposition to get into a summit meeting with the Russians.

Diplomats here said it was evident that war fears generated by the U. S. and British troop landings in the Middle East had created a receptive attitude for the shrewdly conceived summit proposal which Khrushchev made.

The Soviet Premier asked for a 5-power meeting, including India, in Geneva on Tuesday to resolve the crisis and save world peace.

Administrative leaders took the view that it was essentially a propaganda maneuver—such an early meeting being out of the question—but they ruefully admitted that it was a maneuver of such force and imagination as Washington has not been able to produce during this crisis. So far the west has been losing the public opinion battle in much of the world.

Khrushchev appeared to be vulnerable to counter attack on only one point. He proposed to bypass the United Nations.

The U. S. draft, Hagerty said, was sent to the other nations last night through their ambassadors.

He said that until the consultations end he will have nothing further to say about the possibility of a summit conference.

Hagerty said that after the consultations among the western countries are completed President Eisenhower will make a direct reply to Khrushchev.

Also in reply to questions, Hagerty said India was not only one point. He proposed to bypass the United Nations.

Japan Favors Expansion of UN Observers

Western Support Seen but Soviet Veto Held Likely

BY WILLIAM N. OATIS

United Nations, N. Y. —P— Japan counted on western support today as she went to the U. N. Security Council with a plan to expand operations of the U. N. observer group in Lebanon so U. S. Marines could be withdrawn.

Some diplomats believed the Soviet Union, intent on getting a special session of the general assembly in which to attack the west, would veto Japan's proposal.

The council scheduled a mid-afternoon session but there was no indication when a vote would come on the Japanese resolution. If it failed, the council then could take up U. S. and Soviet resolutions calling for an emergency assembly session on the Middle East crisis.

Bar to Infiltration

The Japanese resolution would ask the U. N. observation group in Lebanon to "develop its activities" aimed at insuring against illegal infiltration of arms and men from the United Arab Republic to the Lebanese rebels.

It also would have the council ask U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld to arrange such additional measures "as he may consider necessary" to prevent aid from reaching the rebels and to "insure the territorial integrity and political independence of Lebanon, so as to make possible the withdrawal of U. S. forces from Lebanon."

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, leaving New York for London late yesterday, told newsmen that Britain would vote for the Japanese resolution. A source close to the Japanese delegation said the United States would, too.

The United States in pressing its own resolution to authorize a U. N. emergency force for Lebanon had promised to withdraw its marines when the U. N. troops took over. The Soviets vetoed the American proposal Friday, and the council majority voted down a Soviet demand for immediate withdrawal of the American forces from Lebanon and British troops from Jordan.

British officials warned that if the new curfew did not succeed in stopping the rash of ambush killings and attacks at night, daytime curfews might be imposed.

The government ordered a night curfew in all principal towns from 7 p.m. to 4:30 a.m. District security committees were empowered to impose day curfews if necessary. Road traffic was prohibited during the curfew hours except with special permission. This permits villagers to move from house to house but they may not leave their village boundaries.

Marines Join Lebanese Army Anti-Sniper Patrols; Leaflets Dropped by Planes

BY EDWIN A. SHANKE

Beirut, Lebanon —P— The United States brought the menacing words "atomic capability" into the Middle Eastern crisis today.

A U. S. spokesman said all U. S. ground, air and sea combat units "have atomic capability." He specifically avoided saying whether the 6,300 marines here have atomic warheads in Lebanon.

At the same time, U. S. Marines joined Lebanese army anti-sniper patrols which could bring them in contact with rebels, many of them pro-Nasser.

These developments came as President Nasser of the Syrian-Egyptian United Arab Republic and Soviet Premier Khrushchev weighed results of their latest diplomatic moves.

Nasser, it was reported by Cairo news agencies, met with the rich ruling sheik of Kuwait in Damascus yesterday. Kuwait, a British protectorate, is in the Persian gulf close to Iraq, and supplies half of Britain's oil. It is the leading oil producer in the Middle East.

Khrushchev proposed over the weekend a 5-power summit conference to talk over the Middle East crisis.

The United States also took steps to inform Lebanese of the reasons for the presence of American troops in Lebanon.

A U. S. embassy spokesman said a million leaflets in Arabic were dropped from one end of Lebanon to the other and assured the Lebanese the Americans would leave "as soon as the United Nations has taken measures assuring the independence of Lebanon." The leaflets carried a picture of President Eisenhower.

Two Sabre jets and a Ma-rauder bomber which swept over Beirut dropping the leaflets caused a flurry of excitement.

A navy spokesman disclosed that U. S. forces have come equipped with the necessary weapons to use atomic power. "All combat units, including ground, air and sea have atomic capability," he said.

"Any further discussions is a matter of internal security," he added.

He did not say the marines had brought atomic warheads, but the implication seemed clear. The marines have landed four 8-inch howitzers which are capable of shooting an atomic shell about 11 miles.

The adding of marines to Lebanese army anti-sniper patrols was described by U. S. briefing officers as an effort to improve liaison with Lebanese army forces in an effort

Scores Flights Over Austria

Russian Official Hands Protest to
U. S. Ambassador

London —P— Moscow radio said today the Soviet Union has protested to the United States against the flight of American planes over Austria.

The protest was against flights by U. S. aircraft from western Germany to the Middle East.

Pravda, the Soviet communist party organ, denounced these flights Sunday and again today as "premeditated violation of Austrian air space."

The radio broadcast reporting the formal Soviet protest said it was handed to U. S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson by Georgi Zarubin, Soviet deputy foreign minister.

The Austrian government announced Saturday that the U. S. state department had promised there would be no more unauthorized flights of U. S. planes over Austria. The United States explained there had not been time to gain formal clearance from Austria.

Earlier in the week the Austrians sent fighter planes to two western provinces with orders "to use all means at their disposal to force entering military planes to land."

The U. S. planes apparently were Gloemasters taking units and supplies to the Mideast. Austria, though western oriented, is neutral by treaty.

Today's protest was timed to coincide with a visit to Moscow by Chancellor Julius Raab of Austria.

No Criminal Charge Planned Against Hurless

Milwaukee —P— Dist. Atty. William McCauley said Saturday the performance by former City Comptroller Virgil Hurless does not warrant criminal action.

Last Thursday was the effective date of Hurless' resignation. He gave up his job last month under pressure from the common council.

McCauley's opinion was contained in a letter to Ald. Martin Schreiber, president of the council.

Budget Deficit Of $2.8 Billion Last Fiscal Year

Washington —P— The government said today the national budget was in the red by $2,813,000,000 at the end of the fiscal year last June 30.

Secretary of the Treasury Anderson and Budget Director Maurice H. Stans made the announcement in a joint statement based on preliminary reports still subject to revision.

The deficit was recorded after two fiscal years in which the government's budget books were in the black.

As recently as last January, President Eisenhower estimated the budget for the 1958 fiscal year ended June 30 would be in the red by only $400 million.

Receipts during the fiscal year totaled $69,100,000,000, down nearly $2 billion from 1957. The drop was caused largely by the recession in 1957. The drop was Budget spending during the 12 months total $71,900,000,000, an increase of $2½ billion over the previous fiscal year.

Soviet Union Aims Plan for Treaty of Non-Aggression

Moscow —P— The Soviet Union today made public its latest proposals for a non-aggression treaty between the North Atlantic alliance and the Soviet bloc's Warsaw pact group. Basically there was little new.

The recommendations included reduction of foreign troops in Germany, a nuclear-free zone in central Europe and aerial surveys in central Europe to prevent surprise attacks. The new version of the proposals was contained in notes delivered to the big-power western ambassadors in Moscow last Tuesday.

The Russians proposed all foreign troops in Germany be cut one-third, or "another agreed fraction." The nuclear-free zone would cover "the immediate vicinity of a line dividing the military groupings in Europe." Keeping out atomic weapons would depend only on the promises of those who signed the treaty.

Inspection and control would cover only forces massing for surprise attacks. "The Soviet government favors the idea of aerial surveys within an 800-kilometer (500-mile) zone on either side of the demarcation line between the Warsaw treaty and NATO countries to prevent surprise attack," the note said.

Dulles May Attend Baghdad Pact Meeting

Washington —P— Secretary of State Dulles may go to London next weekend to attend a meeting of the council of the Baghdad pact—the Middle Eastern alliance embracing Britain and four Mideast countries.

Dulles also is planning to go to New York for a session of the U. N. General assembly should one be called to deal with the Middle East crisis.

Congress' Blessing On Action Sought

Believes Approval of Sending U. S. Troops Into Lebanon Will Avoid Repetition of Bitter Arguments

Washington — Rep. John M. Vorys (R-Ohio) said today he favors having congress go on record to back up President Eisenhower's sending of troops to Lebanon if that can be done without nation-splitting debate. He said such action, if accomplished, might avoid a repetition of the long argument which followed former President Truman's use of troops in Korea.

Vorys spoke as a fellow senior member of the house foreign affairs committee. Rep. A. S. J. Carnahan (D-Mo), lead plans for hearings late this week on a resolution calling for creation of a permanent UN police force.

Momentous Decision

Rep. Thomas E. Morgan (D-Pa), the committee chairman, said that Eisenhower took the only move he could in his momentous decision to dispatch troops at the request of President Camille Chamoun of Lebanon.

"We had a moral commitment and we had to fulfill it," said Morgan, who also heads a subcommittee on the Near East. Morgan said if Eisenhower had not acted, the United States would have suffered a

Iraqi Colonel Stages Polite British Coup

Minor Diplomat Now Temporary Head of Embassy

London — A smartly dressed Iraqi colonel staged a polite and smiling coup here today. He ousted his ambassador and top aides and set up a minor diplomat as temporary head of the Iraqi mission to Britain.

Col. Abdul Kadir Faik, mustached 35-year-old graduate of a British military staff college, appeared at a news conference to announce that the one time embassy of the kingdom of Iraq is now the embassy of the republic of Iraq.

"The ambassador and minister do not hold their positions now," he explained.

Received Instruction

The colonel said he had conferred by telephone today with Brig. Abdul Karim Kassem, premier of the new Iraqi regime, and received his instructions.

Col. Faik brushed aside references to the ambassador, Prince Al-Amir Zeid ibn Al-Hussein, great uncle of the slain King Faisal and now sole surviving member of the Iraqi royal family.

"He's a member of the royal family," the army officer said in explaining why he is no longer ambassador.

Col. Faik said the Iraqi prime minister had told him on the telephone:

"For God's sake make it clear to the west that we are still their friends. We will be their friends and we should like to continue the former relations between Iraq and the west."

Russia already has vetoed the U. S. proposal in the UN security council.

Sen. John J. Sparkman (D-Ala) said over the weekend that he doesn't think the United States can muster the two-thirds vote of the UN general assembly that would be needed for approval of a UN police force for Lebanon.

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) said he has grave misgivings about the Eisenhower troop move because he feels it raised the ire of the Arab world against the United States.

Violence Seems Certain to Hit Jordan Soon

Young King Hussein In Deep Trouble Despite U. S. Help

Amman, Jordan — Young King Hussein is obviously in deep trouble despite the crash program of military and economic aid from the United States and Britain.

Developments in Iraq have hit Jordan hard. Already the eastern part of the country has lost much of its communication with the Palestinian side of the Jordan river, a hotbed of support for UAR President Nasser. There is a good chance that much blood will be spilled here before long.

Several Reasons

There are several reasons why violence did not explode immediately in the wake of the revolt in Iraq. Opposition leaders are still under arrest. Hussein apparently had been warned of a new plot to dethrone him in time to clean out dissident officers. And Jordan still is under a rigid royal dictatorship and martial law.

But most important the events in Iraq came with such suddenness that they stunned Jordan's population. Many, even among ordinarily violent, unthinking extremists, at first saw the developments in Iraq and Lebanon as a prelude to World War III and were awed by the possibilities. When they get their second wind there will be violence.

Primarily the violence will be sparked by strong anti-British sentiment, which looks on the 2,000 British troops now here as a mobile palace guard around the king. Sharp economic dislocations in the wake of the Iraqi revolt likely will raise the revolutionary temper.

Prices Soaring

Jordan depended entirely upon Iraq for the oil to keep its economy going. Automobiles are being garaged. Taxi prices are soaring. Unless U. S. oil deliveries by air can fill the gap, the pumps that bring water to Amman, Jerusalem and other cities from reservoirs miles away will stop. And electric service already is breaking down in some areas.

The United States plans to bring in 1,000 tons of oil daily in Globemaster planes. The United States is hopeful to replace this in two weeks with tanker service from Britain's Aden refinery to the Jordan port of Aqaba.

Bar President Proposes International Courts

Wants Nations to Go to Law, Not to War to Settle Pressing Disputes

Cologne, Germany — The president of the American Bar association appealed today for a new international system of courts so nations can go to law—instead of to war—to settle their quarrels.

Charles S. Rhyne of Washington, D.C., spoke at the opening of the seventh biennial conference of the International Bar association. More than 100 lawyers attended the gathering of 500-plus delegates from 42 countries who assembled in the 500-year-old guild house.

Basic Principles

Rhyne pointed out that the basic principles of law were common throughout history and were internationally accepted but thus far had been applied mainly within national borders. The world community has only one court, the international court of justice at The Hague, "the most unused instrument former Iraqi Premier Nuri Said.

Al-Askari put up a sign at No. 21 Queen's Gate, the embassy's business offices, reading:

"Please note. Not in use until further notice."

Above the sign was the royal crest of the deposed Iraqi monarchy.

Col. Faik smilingly told newsmen he believed the minister was an intelligent man and would take down the sign.

"Otherwise," he commented, "we shall have to take it down."

Long Memory Helps Return Diamond Ring Lost for Nine Years

Waukesha — Mrs. F. R. Winchell, the former Joyce Schroeder of Oneida has her $400 diamond engagement ring back after nine years' thanks to the long memory of the Carroll college superintendent of buildings and grounds.

Clarence Johnson remembered the exhaustive search conducted in 1949 when the then Miss Schroeder, a student, reported her ring missing.

When workmen started to dismantle the shower room at Voorhees dormitory preparatory to a remodeling project, Johnson warned them to keep an eye out for the ring. It was found behind a partition wall in the room.

Both Joyce and her husband are 1950 graduates of Carroll.

Baghdad Citizens Seem Happy With Regime; Old Capital Peaceful

Iraq Officers Involved in Coup Say About 30 Persons Were Killed

Baghdad, Iraq — This ancient capital is peaceful and most of its inhabitants appear enthusiastic about the new republic.

Officers involved in the lightning coup which ousted the Iraqi monarchy a week ago today said about 30 persons were killed, including King Faisal II, crown Prince Abdul Ilah and Premier Nuri Said. The U.S. embassy said three Americans are missing and presumed dead.

People grin at soldiers walking through the street or camped in tracked vehicles. The only troop formations left in the capital have been placed around the radio station, which gave the first news of the coup to the world.

No Opposition

An army spokesman denied reports that forces loyal to the old regime were marching from the north on Baghdad. He said there had been no opposition to the new republic since the revolt last Monday and "if you want, we would be glad to take you anywhere to see for yourself."

Two army officers took a reporter on a tour of Baghdad to demonstrate the difference between the palatial homes of the old regime and the houses most people live in. They were cheered by young and old alike.

Night clubs, which have been shut down by the curfew, are the only businesses not going ahead as usual.

Three Americans

The three Americans listed by the U.S. embassy as missing are Robert Alcock, an Altadena, Calif., businessman who worked for an oil refinery supplier; George Colley, vice president of the Bachtel company of San Francisco; and Eugene Burns, Sausalito, Calif., nature writer, director general of the Holy Land foundation and former Associated Press reporter.

(In Altadena, Mrs. Alcock persisted in the hope she might hear from her husband "any day now." She said she last heard from him on July 9 and "he might be riding a camel off across the desert somewhere.")

Former Premier Fadhil Jammal, who was first reported to have been killed and then dragged through the streets, is alive and in prison. He was seen on a televised news conference Friday night and is on trial with 30 other former officials. Jamali is charged with stealing from the government and helping foreigners exploit the country.

Others In Jail

Others in jail include the part-time correspondents of the Associated Press and Reuters, the British News agency. Both are Iraqis.

A government spokesman, asked about Iraq's British-owned oil industry, said the republic's weekend mutual defense agreement with the United Arab Republic increases the assurance that Iraqi oil will continue to flow toward Europe.

Information Minister Seddik Semshel said the government hopes the Iraq Petroleum company will revive plans for a new pipeline across Syria.

Politician Still Has His Job to Do

Men in Both Parties Support Ike's
Action; All Figure Its Vote Effect

BY WILLIAM S. WHITE

Washington — The fellow who keeps books at the cement plant will be moved like the rest of us when great crises come upon the country. But he will go right on keeping the books.

So, too, the professional politician. He is deeply interested in Lebanon, in Iraq, in Jordan. But he, too, still has his job to do. While his heart is with the drama of the Middle East, his mind must remain prosaically upon the middle west — and the west, the south and the east.

In this sense the black foreign headlines have become first and foremost only another problem in all the other domestic political calculations of the national politician.

In both parties, the top professionals are supporting the president in act as well as in word as he moves fatefully in the Middle East. And the Democrats mean this support quite as much as do the Republicans.

Cost Balance Sheets
But in both parties, the top professionals are also very busy in another way. They are casting up their early, tentative balance sheets as to the effect on the congressional elections this fall of President Eisenhower's dispatch of the marines and paratroopers to protect the free west's position.

The most optimistic of the confidential estimates of Republican professionals does not claim that the party can win these elections as a result of the president's action — after such long inaction.

These confidential estimates do, however, raise the possibility that the Republicans might have a good chance to reduce the degree of losses that earlier had seemed inevitable.

A Republican pro always found by this correspondent to be bleakly realistic privately sums it up: "A week ago we were dead for '58 — simply dead. Now, we are at least alive, if only a little."

Most Pessimistic

The most pessimistic of the confidential estimates among Democratic professionals assumes that the Democrats are fairly certain at worst to broaden somewhat their presently thin majorities in the senate and house. They are seen as certain to widen these margins very sharply if the highest figures of the Democratic party are able to sustain their present determination to keep fringe and splinter Democratic spokesmen from attacking foreign policy in these dangerous times.

It is noteworthy that those Democrats who are standing most strongly with the president now include former President Truman, Adlai E. Stevenson, Speaker Sam Rayburn of the house of representatives and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, the senate Democratic leader. A Democratic professional of high competence and reliability puts it this way: "If we can continue to show that we are a truly responsible party—and if Harry (Truman) doesn't let memories of his own shabby treatment by the Republicans over Korea get the better of him—the Republicans are going nowhere in '58. In any case, they can't possibly get very far."

Nobody in either party, parenthetically, is attempting to peer into the presidential contest of 1960. The question of 1958 is quite enough for the moment.

Rise Is Relative

Such a rise in heart among the Republican pros as there has been is only relative. It is based upon the belief that Mr. Eisenhower's bold act in the Middle East—after years of indecision before the march of imperialist communism—may help neutralize a powerful Democratic issue for this fall. This issue actually had been unearthed widely in secret polls made on behalf of congressional Republicans rather than congressional Democrats. The bad news brought to the Republicans had been this: Not even presidential assistant Sherman Adams and his vicuna coat and other favors from Bernard Goldfine were doing the Republicans so much harm as was a spreading public image of Mr. Eisenhower as having faltered in national leadership.

It would be true irony if General Eisenhower's decision to intervene boldly in the Middle East in 1958 should save his own party from an all-out congressional election disaster. For his refusal to intervene at all in the Middle East in 1956—except negatively in helping to end the British-French-Israeli invasion of pro-communist Egypt—helped compound a Democratic presidential election disaster of that year.

Mr. Eisenhower would have won over Mr. Stevenson anyhow—but certainly not by the vast landslide with which he did win

West's Control of Oil Shaken in Iraq; Now Within Political Grasp of Nasser

New York — The west control of the Middle East's vast and vital oil reserves was visibly shaken by the coup in Iraq which gave pro-Egyptian forces power, for the first time, in one of the chief Mid-East oil producing regions.

This is the opinion of Wanda Jablonski, Petroleum Week's expert on Middle Eastern oil affairs.

Since Egypt's union with Syria, United Arab Republic President Gamal Abdel Nasser has been stationmaster to all westward transportation routes of Mid-East oil which carry nearly three million barrels a day to Europe and other points west. About 1.9 million barrels daily pass through the Suez canal. Some 500,000 come from Iraq and 350,000 from Saudi Arabia and are pumped through pipelines across Syria.

This situation was precarious enough, but until now, Nasser's forces had not been in control of any of the huge sources of oil. With the Iraq coup, the situation is changed drastically, with ominous overtones for the west, the magazine reports.

3 Large Areas

Apart from Iraq, which is non-Arab, there are only three giant oil producing areas in the Arab world — Iraq, Saudi Arabia and Kuwait. These three produce about three million barrels daily, or more than Europe's entire consumption.

These states alone hold more than one-half of the entire free world's proven oil reserves, or at least 110 billion barrels — 60 billion barrels in Kuwait, 45 billion in Saudi Arabia, and 25 billion in Iraq. This is nearly four times as much as U.S. proven reserves.

Published estimates of Middle East reserves are so ultra-conservative that even these figures are misleading, the magazine states. Probable reserves in these three states, already discovered but not fully proven, may total twice the published figures.

The three Arab states, plus Iran, represent the free world's indispensable "oil bank" for meeting the rapidly rising oil consumption needs of Europe, the Far East, Africa, and even parts of the western hemisphere.

One of the most serious implications of the crisis in Iraq may be its incendiary effect on the less — strongly entrenched pro-west governments in Saudi Arabia and Kuwait.

King Saud's army and bureaucracy are heavily infiltrated with pro-Nasser men, and at least one attempted coup has been uncovered. There is speculation that ailing Crown Prince Feisal, who took over King Saud's sweeping power, will not be strong enough to stand up against the forces of Nasserism.

Trouble in Kuwait

The Sheikh of Kuwait similarly is faced with a rising pro-Nasser Arab unity clamor, even from some members of his family. And his expanded educational facilities and governmental system are heavily

Sightseers Invade Home Of Macmillan

London — Prime Minister Macmillan was grappling with the problems of summertime Sunday when 2,000 sightseers invaded his stately Sussex home.

They took over his study. He retreated to a second-story bedroom. They chattered on the terrace beneath his open windows. He told a servant to close them.

Finally, when he came down to meet the visitors he locked himself out of his own house.

Long before the Middle East crisis, Macmillan had announced that on July 20 he would throw open Birch Grove, his Georgian country home, at a shilling (14 cents) a head in aid of charity. He didn't realize it was going to be such a busy weekend.

Macmillan made only a 9-minute "show the flag" appearance. He strode out of the front door and rounded the house almost at the double.

He was half way past the rose beds before the first cheers died away. The crowd scrambled in hot pursuit, panting and shouting. A 10-year-old American tourist, Susie Bezdek of Springfield, Mass., gasped: "Gee, that man sure can hustle!"

At the back door the prime minister found he'd forgotten his key. Looking slightly embarrassed, he carried on round to the front door and sprinted into the house.

Twenty minutes later he was on his way to the peace of No. 10 Downing street, his official London residence.

Fox Cities Area Democrats Cock Optimistic Eye Toward Elections

Record Number of Candidates File Nomination Papers in Four Counties

BY DAVID APKER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Democrats in the Fox Cities area are looking forward to the fall elections with an optimistic eye, if the number of candidates they have running for county offices and state legislative posts is any indication.

The greatest number of Democratic candidates in years have filed their nomination papers, according to records at the offices of clerks in Outagamie, Winnebago, Calumet and Waupaca counties.

Greatest percentage of Democratic candidates this year is in Winnebago county, where the party has put up candidates for 13 of a possible 14 offices, or 92 per cent of the total available. Calumet county Democrats have eight out of nine possible candidates, or 89 per cent. Outagamie county has nine Democratic candidates out of a possible 12.

In Waupaca county the party has candidates for only two out of eight offices. The Waupaca total still reflects a small glimmer of optimism, since more often than not in the last five elections, the party had no candidates at all.

Need Full Slate
Politicos in both Wisconsin parties have always held that a full slate of candidates on the county and district levels aids the party's state and national ticket. They feel the interest generated in local contests will bring out a greater vote for upper-level candidates, even if the local hopefuls don't win.

Students of Wisconsin politics say this political fact of life may be significant for the Democrats this year. They point out that the Republican margin of victory on the state level in the last few elections has decreased to the point where even a small hike in the Democratic vote might be enough to put a Democratic governor in the state house, gain control of both legislative branches of the state government and increase the party's representation in the Wisconsin congressional delegation.

Taking the vote for governor since 1948 as the indication of the party's voting strength in the Fox Cities area, figures show the Democrats have polled an average of 31 per cent of the total vote in the last five gubernatorial contests.

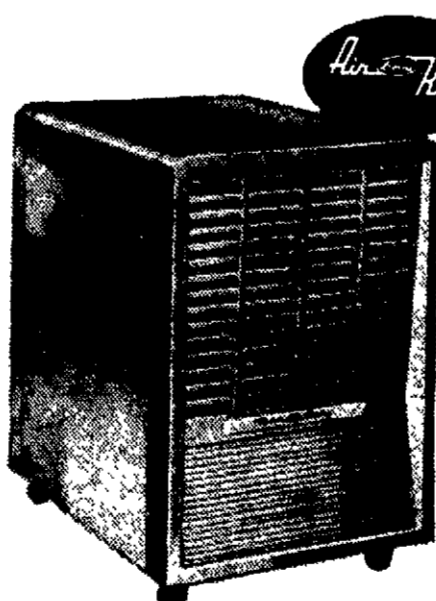

Peak Year
Peak year for the Democrats was 1954, when they received 35 per cent of the total. They polled 34 per cent in the 1948 and 1956 elections, but dropped to a low of 24 per cent in 1952—the year of President Eisenhower's first election sweep, when the GOP swamped the Democrats on nearly all levels in Wisconsin.

In Winnebago county in both 1954 and 1956, the party polled more than 37 per cent of the vote—highest percentages in any of the four counties since 1948. In 1952, Winnebago cast 28.9 per cent Democratic votes for governor, while the other three counties trailed far behind.

The 1954 elections also found the Democrats getting peak votes for governor in Outagamie and Waupaca counties, where they captured 34.8 and 28.5 per cent of the vote respectively. Top year in Calumet county was 1956, when the Democratic candidate received 35.1 per cent of the vote.

Until 1958, the best year for area Democrats was 1950, when they ran candidates for 64 per cent of the offices available. However, 1950 was the party's second worst year vote-wise, since they were able to poll only 31 per cent of the governor vote. That year, however, now Sen. William Proxmire was relatively unknown and was making his first bid for statewide office.

'Aggression in Plain Clothes'

In World War II the most common epithet hurled by the Allies against the Axis powers was "aggressors." The fact that Hitler, Mussolini and Tojo were cruel tyrants was not so important as the fact that they had committed aggression. After the war it was agreed that no nation should ever again be permitted to commit aggression, and the United Nations was set up primarily to enforce this rule.

By aggression we meant, in those days, the outright marching of armies across borders, as when the Germans attacked Poland. The United States, as the leader of the free nations and the world's greatest power, has let it be known in the intervening years that, in effect, we would not permit any nation to commit aggression anywhere in the world. We have signed treaties with practically every other free nation promising to come to their aid should they become the victims of aggression. The communists tested our determination about this just once — in Korea. The only really clear-cut case of aggression that has taken place since World War II.

It is now quite clear that the Kremlin's strategists, having learned in Korea that this old-fashioned kind of aggression would be met with force from the United States, decided something different was needed to carry out the communist goal of piecemeal conquest of the world. And a weapon was readily at hand, for the communists had spent years perfecting the technique of taking over a country from within through infiltration and subversion. It had, in fact, already been spectacularly successful for them in Czechoslovakia.

And so the free world is now faced with a new kind of aggression, a form that Ambassador Lodge described the other day as "subversion in plain clothes." A better term would be "aggression in plain clothes" for that is what it is. It is extremely difficult to combat. The government of Iraq simply disappeared in the space of seven hours; between breakfast and lunch the people of that country lost their government and found themselves enslaved by a communist-oriented regime. And in those same seven hours the West lost a key ally in the Middle East.

Improvements in Education

A statement by Dr. William Carr, executive secretary of the National Education association, and the conclusion drawn by a writer for the New York Times are alarmingly indicative of some false ideas some people hold about America's educational system.

Says Dr. Carr about improvements in education:

So far it has been just talk, talk, talk. The Sputnik was launched last fall. Winter, spring and now summer — and I have yet to hear of a state legislature or the Congress of the United States doing anything more than talk.

Concludes Reporter Bess Furman:

Eight months after the first Soviet satellite caused this country to take stock of itself, little has been done to remedy the weaknesses in its educational system.

Obviously these viewers think the only solution to such alleged weaknesses is cash, preferably from that distant uncle, the federal government. But the places where educational institutions may be improved — in serious review by school boards, reappraisal of curriculum by administrators and the tightening of requirements by teachers — are completely overlooked.

Not only since Sputnik but for many

Some Aids to Education

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States has strongly opposed federal grants for the construction of school buildings, but it has staunchly supported other federal forms of assistance to improve the quality of instruction.

One measure which the chamber has supported has been passed by both houses and is now before the House-Senate conferees to determine whether the appropriation shall be $115 million or $140 million or somewhere between those figures. The money would be spent to expand the National Science foundation's program to improve the quality of science teachers' instruction through its voluntary institutes. The chamber says the voluntary programs emphasize stimulation without interference.

The chamber previously had supported tax deductions for teachers covering the cost of training to increase their proficiency.

Exporting Culture Doesn't Work

A Madison newspaper's prime concern about the revolt in Iraq seems to be that now Architect Frank Lloyd Wright's plans for a cultural center in Baghdad won't be carried out.

Wright himself has lambasted the foreign policy of the Eisenhower administration for letting such a rebellion against the Iraqi government occur. But considering the hullabaloo in Wisconsin about a proposed "cultural type" bridge which Wright designed, and the continued controversy

What can we do to stop this kind of aggression? In Guatemala in 1954 and in Jordan in 1957 we found indirect methods sufficient: our State department used money and political pressures to shore up the anti-communist elements in those nations and managed to frustrate the Red plotters. But the lightning stroke in Iraq is a warning that the communists have perfected their technique; they strike so quickly that we do not have time to head them off with such methods. The Iraqi government did not even have time to call for our help; we could not even create a legal fiction by having one of its survivors issue the call — there were no survivors.

As this is being written there are reports that the American and British governments are preparing to accept the loss of Iraq. This is folly — it is nothing but complete surrender to this Soviet "aggression in plain clothes." It would be an announcement to the enemy, the neutrals and our allies that the communists have found a way to snatch a nation right out from under our noses, and that we feel ourselves helpless to retaliate.

But aside from what we do regarding Iraq, how can we stop this kind of aggression in the future? It seems to us there is only one way — we should amend our treaties that guarantee other free nations protection against the old-fashioned kind of aggression, so that we guarantee them also against this new kind. In effect we would guarantee that the present governments of such nations could be changed only by constitutional means; that should a government be overthrown by other means the United States automatically has the right to send in its troops to overthrow the overthrowers. We would, of course, have to be careful about the kind of governments with which we sign such treaties; obviously we would not want to be put in the position of protecting a Franco, a Peron or a King Saud against a revolt by genuinely democratic forces. But such governments are not numerous; and through such treaties we could inform the Kremlin that "aggression in plain clothes" will be stamped out just as surely as we have let them know they can't get away with the other kind.

years some educators and parents have concerned themselves with critical appraisal and improvement of the public schools. In this area, for instance, there have been reviews and changes in curriculum in almost all of our secondary schools, a reappraisal of emphasis, a tightening of disciplinary controls. Most important perhaps has been the seeking out and development of superior students and the gifted as well as putting more academic pressure on the average and assisting the weak to work up to capacity. As the demands for science increased there was renewed awareness of the need to teach the whys of American government as well as raising mathematical and scientific opportunities and requirements.

Certainly a great deal more can be done. Educational systems cannot be static. There are the changing needs of society, new scientific discoveries, a shifting of emphasis. Requirements for teachers are being raised, subject matter improved, and more and more parents and taxpayers wanting to know what and how subjects are being taught. But to say that because legislatures have not voted more money there is apathy or nothing is being done reveals a serious educational lack in the background of both Miss Furman and Dr. Carr.

cy. That suggestion was put into effect by administrative action. The chamber has two other proposals in this field. They call for an amendment to the federal tax laws to increase incentives for voluntary financial contributions in the support of higher education, and to permit deduction from gross taxable income of a reasonable percentage of education costs.

The chamber says that when these objectives are attained there will be little reason for federal aid proposals which tend to stifle rather than increase voluntary efforts. It must be acknowledged that the proposals are all helpful in improving facilities for higher education and in encouraging attendance. Furthermore they are not as objectionable as inviting federal interference in education. Finally they have the great virtue of being a substitute for the grants-in-aid that the chamber has opposed.

over the Madison lake front community center, the State department ought to investigate this whole business of architecture pretty thoroughly. Maybe some Iraq rebels didn't like the plans. Maybe they wanted to build their own buildings. Maybe they, like a lot of American taxpayers, thought foreign aid funds could be put to a better and more economical use.

Hey, maybe that Baghdad cultural center was the cause of the whole blamed upheaval at that!

Administration Paying Now for Lavishness in Years of Plenty

From the Houston Chronicle.

It is the traditional and salutary habit of good government to seize the opportunity during years of good business to reduce the public debt resulting from years of war and depression. For instance, at the end of World war I, the United States found itself saddled with a debt of $25,482,034,419 or $242.54 per capita. This was considered in those days an enormous obligation. Then, through 10 years of carefully balanced budgets and prudent government expenditures, the debt was brought down to $16,185,309,831, an average of $131.51 for each citizen.

By the time Franklin D. Roosevelt became president, following three years of depression after the stock market crash made its impact felt, the debt had gone up to $19,487,002,444, or $156.10 per capita. After 20 years of New Deal, Fair Deal and warfare, the public debt at the end of fiscal 1952 stood at $259,105,178,785, amounting to $1,650.06 per capita. So it stood when Eisenhower took office and two years of his administration resulted in a $12,000,000,000 increase. For fiscal 1957, the debt was $270,527,171,896 but last October, the executive office predicted a surplus for fiscal 1958 of about $1,500,000,000.

But what has happened? We are now informed fiscal 1958, which closed June 30, ended with the government $2,750,000,000 in the red. And on top of this announcement, it is said the Eisenhower administration now anticipates a deficit of between $10,000,000,000 and $12,000,000,000 for fiscal 1959.

The business slump since October, last year, made the administration's forecast of that time inaccurate. True, the estimate was revised last January to a forecast of a $400,000,000 deficit. Nevertheless, in the face of impending debt, the administration shows no signs of alleviating the strain on the national treasury by slowing down on expenditures. These facts and forecasts kill off all chance of a tax cut for next year, a cut we were a year ago given to believe might have come this year. It has not, and the only tax relief came when the Senate-House conferees agreed

Toll Roads Show Safety Record Over Holiday

From the Chattanooga Times.

A significant fact has emerged from the tragic figures compiled on highway accidents and fatalities over the Memorial day weekend. A record-breaking 371 persons died in auto wrecks in that period, but not a one perished on toll roads and pay turnpikes across the northeast section of the country from New England to Chicago.

This comes as encouraging news, especially since it appeared for a time that the safety factors built into the superhighways would be overriden by drivers in too big a hurry to exercise even normal caution.

For the country as a whole, the fatality rate for each 100 million vehicle-miles has been dropping steadily. In 1934, the rate was 16.7 and in 1957 only 5.9. The turnpikes are making an even better showing. The national pike rate for 1957 to lift the 3 per cent wartime tax on movement of freight.

Meanwhile, as corporate tax payments continue to drop while business remains slow, when is our government going to face the situation realistically and drop federal expenditures to match income? We cannot continue to hike the national debt, yet for 25 years the trend has shown a constantly rising curve.

It is the duty of our congress to see that the deficit for the ensuing year be held as low as is possible. The Eisenhower administration is now paying the price of imprudence through its failure, like Truman's, to husband our country's resources when the years were filled with plenty.

was only 2.6 deaths per 100 million vehicle-miles.

The figures are important for this reason: Although the 41,000-mile federal-state highway system, now building, will be toll free, the construction standards and safety factors will be substantially the same as for the turnpikes. If the new high-speed roads are policed as adequately as the toll roads, the fatality rate — 5.2 per 100 million vehicle-miles so far this year — ought to continue downward.

Fire Destroys Campbell Home

79 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of July 26, 1879.

The veneered brick residence of Mrs. Thomas R. Campbell, First Ward, was burned out at an early hour Sunday morning last. The origin of the fire is a mystery.

Mrs. Campbell stated that she had made a fire Saturday morning to prepare breakfast and that there had been no fire in the house afterwards during the day or evening — she being absent at her farm in the country until 9 o'clock at night. She did not even light a lamp on her return.

The fire broke out in the upper part of the house and before the engines arrived, the place was too badly damaged to save it.

State Colleges Expect 13,000 Students in Fall

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — Those who watch the trends in higher education in Wisconsin have been aware for some time of the disproportionate enrollment growth of the tax-supported state colleges, but they have not been entirely agreed on the probable causes.

For most of the years of the state's history, the University of Wisconsin was the giant of the higher education system. During the last half dozen years or more there has been a significant adjustment of enrollment trends. The University has grown, steadily and vigorously. But the state colleges have grown more rapidly, measured in their attractions for students matriculating there.

The current comparison is suggestive. The 10 colleges expect to have more than 13,000 students in the fall, or about twice the totals of six years ago. The university at Madison will have some 16,500, which represents a growth considerably less during the same period.

THE CAUSES

There are numerous factors that probably help to explain this reversal of historic form. Perhaps only extensive and costly research could narrow and isolate the causes and give them precise weight.

Yet among them are these that occur to the naked eye of the observant citizen, whatever relative importance they may have:

The university has grown to a size that appears huge and forbidding to many freshmen seeing it and experiencing it for the first time, a fact that may cost some matriculations. President A. Elvehjem is evidently aware of the fact and the probability that it deters some boys and girls. He has tried to allay such apprehensions in some of his recent public addresses.

The university's performance standards may be more exacting and there is even now a campaign by some student leaders for a further stiffening of the requirements of the faculty upon the students.

The state colleges have been upgraded significantly during the last decade. Their plants have been modernized and expanded. New and attractive and fairly low cost dormitories have made possible the enrollment of students who formerly found housing difficult to find in the smaller cities.

Faculties have been strengthened and improved generally. Salary standards have been lifted. More and more parents are probably recognizing that the exposure to a Ph. D. in a state college is more likely than at the larger university at Madison where the proportion of graduate assistants in the teaching roster is greater.

BIG FACTOR

All such qualitative factors are doubtless important, but there also is an increasingly applicable economic consideration.

Securing for his sons and daughters the opportunity for college training is an immense problem for the middle-class American in a day of price inflation and burdensome taxation.

On this point, if no other in this discussion, this writer can testify expertly, having currently three of his own children in college.

A generation ago, moreover, the typical college boy or girl belonged to a family in the upper income brackets. The proportion of college enrollment, out of each high school class, was tiny. Today, nearly one in three high school graduates starts college. The college population is now drawing from the middle income brackets, and frequently below. For such parents there must be a strong appeal in the institution near-by, to which his son can commute easily and thereby reduce the high cost of attendance at a distant institution.

The boom in the state colleges is probably among other things, a proof of the democratization of higher education.

English Language Is Cold War Weapon

From the Kansas City Times.

To 175 million Americans the English language is merely the handiest device for ordering groceries, bawling out the children and communicating with their neighbors. To George V. Allen, director of the United States Information agency, it is a potent weapon of propaganda. If nothing else, he has the actions of the Russian propagandists to support his belief.

For Allen has discovered that in the Middle East, the Russians themselves are teaching English to Egyptians and Arabs. Add to this the fact that 40 per cent of Russia's high school pupils study English and you see the importance that the Kremlin attaches to what USA has dubbed the "first truly international language."

Of course the Russian classes in English are liberally loaded with Marxist principles which are the same no matter what the language. We would assume that USA's own classes, which are rapidly being expanded, carry a fair share of democratic principles. The popularity of the USIA classes is indicated by reports from places such as Mexico City and Baghdad. In the latter city police were summoned to control the long line waiting to register for instruction in English. In Mexico City, 3,000 applicants showed up for a class that could take only 300.

Under Allen, USIA has stepped up not only its world-wide classes in English, but also has increased the export of English-language books. Already 200,000 simplified editions of popular American books have been sold abroad and 400,000 more will be shipped soon. These are pocket-size books with a "high-frequency" vocabulary of only 1,000 words. As the student of English progresses, he may purchase other books with vocabularies of 2,000 words, and on up to 10,000 words, the average word-usage in the typical American magazine.

Allen's emphasis on English as a world tongue is, we believe, tremendously important. If the Russians want to help by teaching the language to others, fine. The person who speaks our language should be a little better equipped to understand our ways.

Russian Note Shows Fear Of Showdown

Soviets Don't Want War Now, May Cause Internal Rebellions

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Washington — The crisis in the world today turns on an age-old and relatively simple issue —whether one side is really ready for a showdown with the other.

For, despite all Moscow propaganda and its call for a "summit" conference, the basic facts are clear. Those facts convict the Soviet government of subverting weak governments in the middle east and of instigating rebellion and then hypocritically denouncing the western powers for coming to the aid of constituted governments.

The hypocrisy is all the more brazen since not so long ago the Soviets were defending their own armed intervention in Hungary on the ground that the existing government in Budapest had requested help.

The letter from Khrushchev urging Britain, France, the United States and India to participate, along with Soviet Russia, in a high-level conference is couched in words of bold distortion in complete disregard of previously established facts.

New York's the Place
For obviously if any international conference of heads of government were needed quickly, it could be held—as is being proposed by the British government—in New York City. Already in existence there are the buildings and facilities of the United Nations, which has a security council and a general assembly designed to take up the very problems which Khrushchev now argues almost hysterically should be the subject of formal discussions. Hasn't the United Nations been trying to do that for the last few days through the representatives of the same governments, and isn't the U. N. still striving to accomplish that purpose? Except for the Soviet veto in the security council, the U. N. would have been further along now in its efforts to find a peaceful solution.

The Khrushchev note, despite its phrases of braggadocio and "rocket rattling," together with communist propaganda accusing America and Britain of "unprovoked aggression" are merely a cover-up for a state of fear inside the Kremlin that perhaps, after all, the hour of showdown is really approaching.

For the Soviet regime doesn't want a war now—it would mean uprisings among the captive peoples in eastern Europe as well as inside the Soviet Union itself. A war does not always consolidate an internal situation on the basis of national patriotism, as was proved in 1917 by the breakaway of the bolsheviks in the midst of World War I.

Sees Nuclear Ban
It is questionable indeed whether either side would venture now to use nuclear weapons if there is a war. There would probably be a voluntary taboo on them as happened with the self-imposed ban on poison gas in previous wars.

So it's the threat of any war at this time and the fact that the west really may have made up its mind to risk a big war which makes Moscow so worried today. Its latest note betrays anxiety that is genuine. It is not a note based on confidence, but on fear.

Cites Churchill's View
The question, therefore, is whether the big decision will come while the western alliance is still intact or whether a big war will have to be fought when some of the western countries themselves have also been subverted from within. Winston Churchill in his memoirs published in 1948 gives a soul-searching review of what happened in the 1930s. He writes critically of the policy of six years of "placatory appeasement" and of the "catalogue of surrenders" as having contributed a "line of milestones to disaster." Noting that the British and French had strategic opportunities to fight when the situation was militarily favorable to them, he says they finally found themselves fighting "at the worst possible moment and on the least satisfactory ground."

With the Help of an Interpreter, Mayor Clarence Mitchell gave the address of welcome at the Saturday night banquet of the Wisconsin Association of the Deaf convention. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Familiar, Tragic Sound

The Soviets are at a geographical disadvantage in trying to help Nasser and his allies militarily in the Middle East. A large-scale military operation by the west now can avert a big war later on. The gobbledygook of the day calls for U.N. debate and some temporary "solution" involving surrender to expediency. The vague talk about "alternatives" and working out something by "negotiation" has a familiar but tragic sound now. For there is only one issue—whether Soviet imperialism is to be crushed once and for all in the Middle East even at the risk of war or whether a "compromise" and some more so-called guarantees and pledges that are not worth the paper they are written on shall be accepted from the Soviet-controlled regimes in the Middle East which are responsible for the present dilemma.

If the leaders of the west are farsighted, they will face the immediate situation firmly and resolutely and without weakening. If they weaken now—and pay heed to the same type of peace-at-any-price propaganda which fooled England under the Baldwin and Chamberlain ministries—then World War III will become a certainty in the not-far-distant future after the Soviets have so undermined the west as to make possible the success, not necessarily of a nuclear attack by them but the exponents of appeasement think it is.

First Woman President Elected At Deaf Association Meeting

The Wisconsin Association of the Deaf elected Miss Pearl Goff, Delavan, its first woman president at a convention session Saturday afternoon at the Conway hotel.

Other new officers are Oscar Meyer, Milwaukee, vice president; Roger Falberg, Racine, secretary, and Walter Reuter, Milwaukee, treasurer.

About 400 delegates attended the 27th association convention. The state association became the 14th to affiliate with the National Association of the Deaf after voting Saturday afternoon. In other action, it established a round table conference between state chapters. Meetings once or twice a year will discuss improving the association.

Mayor Clarence Mitchell gave the welcoming address at the Saturday night banquet. His speech was interpreted to delegates by Kenneth Huff, Delavan.

The Rev. A. G. Leisman was honored at the banquet for 26 years of office work for the association in a "This Is Your Life" program.

The convention, which began Thursday, ended with an all-day outing Sunday at Erb park.

Farmers Union Urges Changes in Farm Bill

Chippewa Falls — The Wisconsin Farmers Union has urged Sen. William Proxmire to vote against the current omnibus farm bill if he and other senators are unsuccessful in their attempts to amend it.

The Farmers Union, terming the bill "atrocious," said the legislation should be amended to include income-boosting features included in Proxmire's farm proposal.

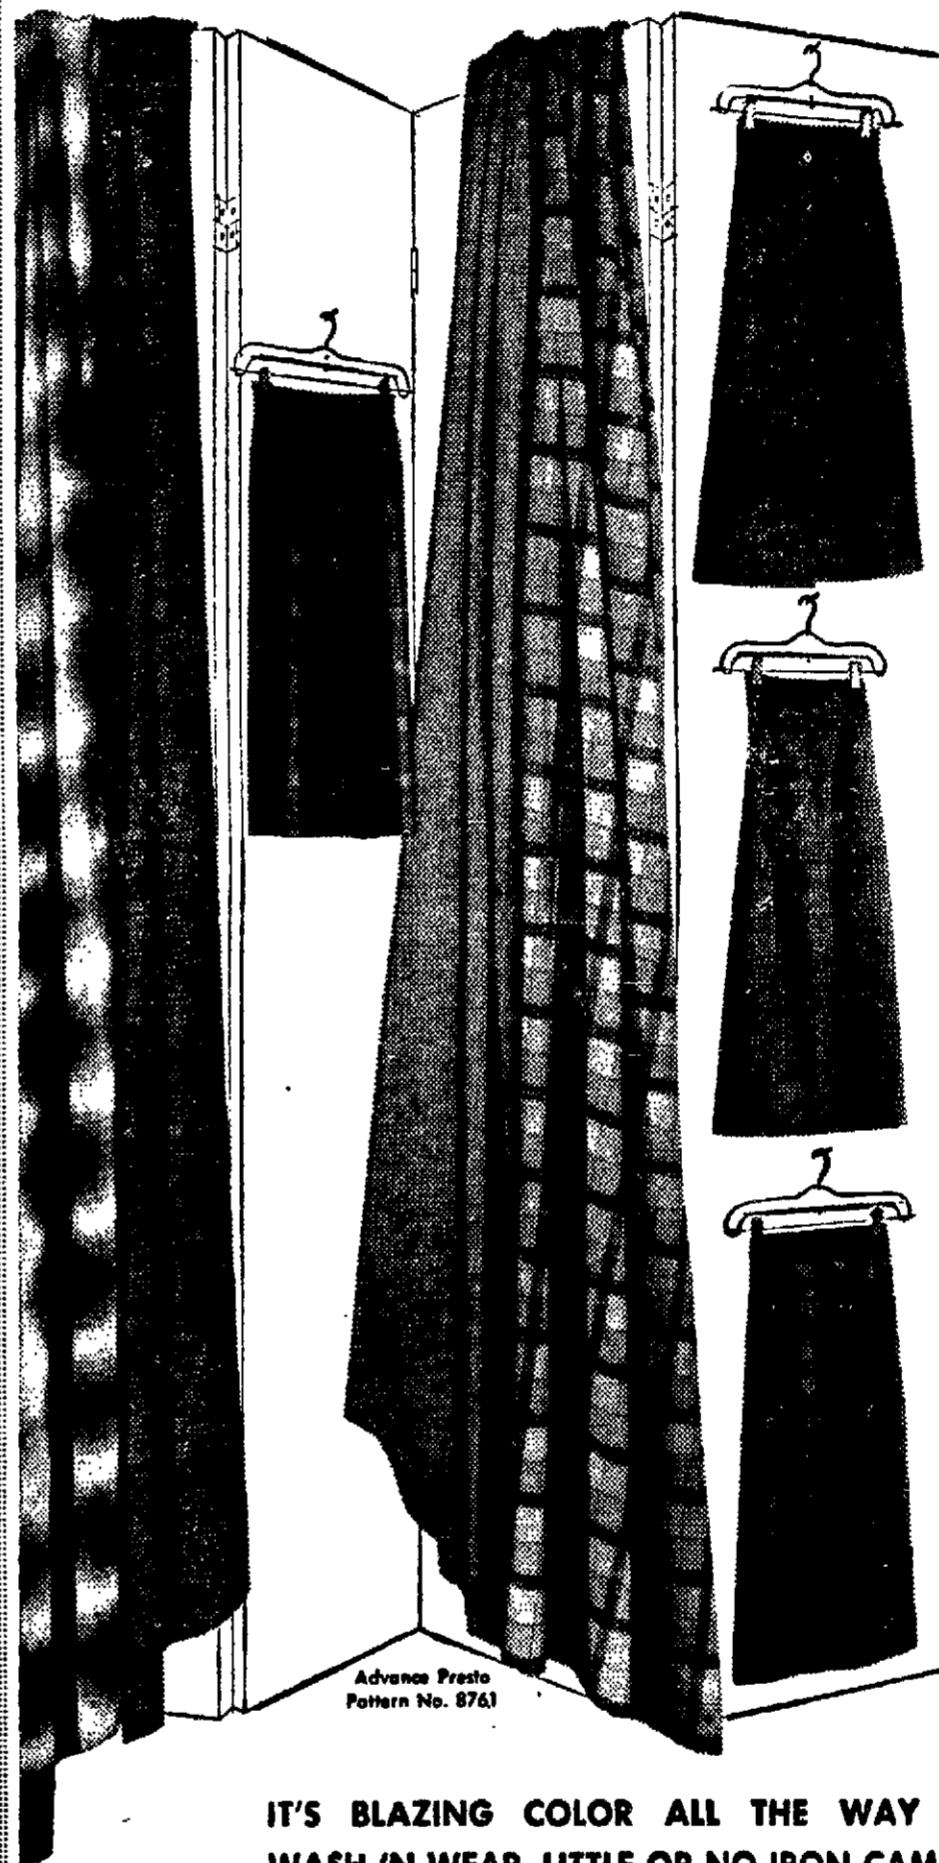

"However, if you and your colleagues fail to put some teeth in this bad bill," the 9-man board directors wired Proxmire, "it is hoped by the Wisconsin Farmers Union that you will vote against this bill and urge others to do the same."

Attorney Rules Council Choice Of Gertz Legal

Former Alderman Resigned Before His Appointment

Kaukauna — The appointment of James Gertz, former Fourth ward alderman, as recreation director was legal, City Atty. John Esler has ruled. After questions were raised on Gertz's resignation and subsequent appointment, Mayor Joseph Bayorgeon requested a ruling.

Gertz, who formerly headed the council's health and recreation committee, was chosen by that committee from a list of seven candidates. He left the committee session during its selection of Gertz as the new director.

State Law Changed Esler indicated the resignation - appointment question was covered under a law amended last year by the legislature. The law states that no member of a council can be eligible for any job which is filled by the council. The amended section states that the limitation does not apply to a council member if he resigns, if the job was not created during his term in office. Esler said the ruling was not a formal opinion.

Gertz's new job was made full-time in 1955, while he was on the council but during his previous term as alderman.

In addition to recreation director, Gertz also fills the job of assistant health officer and relief director, all from the same appointment.

Gertz takes over his new duties Aug. 1. He is employed as a machine operator by the Kaukauna Dairy company.

These Days

Iraq Uprising Upsets Structure Of World Alliances, Says Sokolsky

BY GEORGE SOKOLSKY

NATO is essentially a political and military alliance designed to challenge Soviet imperialism and to provide defenses against it. Associated with NATO was the Balkan alliance, the Baghdad pact and SEATO. This established a military and political line west and south of Soviet Russia upon which the United States hopes to depend for peace and war. But these are voluntary organizations among free nations and therefore no coercive means can be used to enforce any of their decisions.

The Balkan alliance collapsed because of the Cyprus situation, which made it impossible for Greece and Turkey to Arab Republic. Should it finally eventuate that Iraq is out of the Baghdad pact, it will be a Soviet and anti-Soviet attitude necessary to re-establish the since the emergence of Khrushchev as the top man in the Kremlin. More correctly, it is to be said that Tito responded to Soviet challenges, with Russia always holding the initiative. As the Cyprus question finds no solution and as Tito is uncertain as to what course to pursue, it is not likely that the Balkan alliance will ever be restored.

The Baghdad pact has been assailed by Soviet Russia and by Nasser. It has been the principal stumbling block to Nasser's ambitions to establish an Arab universal state with himself at its head. The only Arab country in the Baghdad pact is Iraq, unless a pro-Nasser government can take hold there.

The Iraq revolution was designed to destroy the ruling house of Iraq and to join that country to Nasser's United Arab Republic. Should it finally eventuate that Iraq is out of the Baghdad pact, it will be a Soviet and anti-Soviet attitude necessary to re-establish the Pakistan faces India and Afghanistan. Afghanistan is a neutral country but so close to Soviet Russia that it is fearful of Russian infiltration or subversion or both. Pakistan and Afghanistan are equally involved in the efforts of the Pathans, the wild, nomadic peoples that lie between these two nations, to establish a new state to be called Pushtunistan. The Pathans are an extremely interesting tribal people who may be remnants of the so-called lost tribes of Israel.

Pact Protects Pakistan As long as Pakistan belongs to the Baghdad pact, it can safely move in the orbit of Asiatic nations related to NATO. If the Baghdad pact is destroyed by the elimination of Iraq, the United States may have to guarantee the existence of Pakistan directly. This will raise numerous questions with India which would prefer Pakistan not to exist at all. India has been playing the Soviet game on a gamble, but line from Turkey to Pakistan, a very difficult task indeed. Iraq was the center of such a line. Now Iran stands unsupported and in peril.

The problems of Turkey and Pakistan are thus seriously aggravated. Soviet Russia lies on top of Turkey and is devoted to crushing that country as czar Russia had been for more than two centuries. The Turks, however, are prepared for trouble with Russia and would probably have been for more than two centuries. The Turks, however, are prepared for trouble with Russia and would probably welcome a test of strength because only then could the Turks know for sure whether they stand alone or really have allies. Sooner or later, this will have to be known. The struggle over Cyprus has proved very little either from the standpoint of western solidarity or American good intentions toward Turkey.

Afghanistan is a neutral country but so close to Soviet Russia that it is fearful of Russian infiltration or subversion or both. Pakistan and Afghanistan are equally involved in the efforts of the Pathans, the wild, nomadic peoples that lie between these two nations, to establish a new state to be called Pushtunistan. The Pathans are an extremely interesting tribal people who may be remnants of the so-called lost tribes of Israel.

These are two fighting nations that Nasser cannot influence by propaganda because they are against him per se. Such alliance could force Nasser to risk another war as that which occurred in the Sinai peninsula two years ago.

Bob Derus Hits Par for Honors In Men's Loop

Two Golfers Tie One Stroke Off Pace in Twilight Competition

Kaukauna — Bob Derus shot par-35 to take individual honors in the Fox Valley Golf club Twilight League competition last week while runnerup honors went to Wayne Hull and Orv Tracy who finished with scores of 36, one over par.

Golf prizes were awarded Ted Boebel, John Massaros, Jr., John Andrejeski and Jerry Lamers. Special awards went to Vic Lange, John Massaros, Jr., Jim Minkebig, Wilfred Van Abel and Marv Wittman.

Better Brothers held first place with 366 points despite dropping a 42 to 38 match to Ole and Kates. Quella food remained in second place with 345 points after being defeated by Geenen Shopping 47 to 33. Geenen moved into third place with 340 points.

Other matches saw Look drugs down Van Abel 48 to 32, Wiggle food down Bergs 43 to 28, Kaukauna Savings down Larry food 43 to 28, Haen insurance edge Royal 36 to 35, Morgan printing down S and B 46 to 34 and Minkebig Dry Wall defeat H. T. Runte 37 to 34.

Look drugs held fourth place with 337 points followed by Wiggle with 325, Van Abel with 313, Morgan with 311, Ole and Kates with 310, Haen insurance with 306, H. T. Runte with 303, S and B with 294, Kaukauna Savings with 285, Larry and Minkebig with 280, Royal clothing with 273 and Berg cleaners with 265.

Kaukauna Births

Kaukauna — The Community hospital today announced the following births:

Daughter to: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allgeyer, 810 Boyd avenue, Kaukauna.

Sons to: Mr. and Mrs. Peter C. Menting, 225 Kamps street, Kimberly.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wydeven, Jr., 801 Lawe street, Kaukauna.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Heitpas, 1119 1/2 Madison street, Little Chute.

now has a serious problem on its hands in the emergence of the communist force in India.

In a word, this revolution in Iraq upsets the structure of alliances and affiliations which have been carefully constructed since World War II and upon which the United States hoped to build a peace. It upsets all existing arrangements among the neutrals.

But the Iraqi revolt also poses problems for Soviet Russia. In the first place, Soviet Russia's position as an imperialist country in the whole of Asia is absolutely exposed. Nasser may pose as an independent merchant, buying and selling where he can, but once the marines set foot on Lebanese soil, Nasser's effort to establish a land bridge between Egypt and Syria was thwarted.

If the Turks come to our aid in Lebanon, what may develop is a Turkish-Israel alliance for mutual defense which would limit Nasser's imperialist designs.

These are two fighting nations that Nasser cannot influence by propaganda because they are against him per se. Such alliance could force Nasser to risk another war as that which occurred in the Sinai peninsula two years ago.

Presence of the stop-go light at E. Wisconsin and N. Morrison street has complicated the timing somewhat, the department said, but the progression still is attainable for a few cars.

The department also has begun work of placing walk lights at Wisconsin avenue intersections.

'Lowest Stupe on Earth' Writer Upbraids Jingo For Story on WAPL Stunt

BY JINGO

A couple of days ago this column discussed at length the whimsical promotion stunt of WAPL radio which has put Disc Jerky Bob Bandy atop a hotel roof, probably from his "Marty" Oscar. He's been signed to play Spy Boris Morris in "Spy and Counter-spy" for Columbia Pictures. Bandy, you'll recall, is up there until the station receives 200,000 telephone calls, cards and letters telling him to come down. When the 200,000 are in, the station proposes to hand over $1,000—$100 for every 20,000 messages—to the city council to start a community youth center fund.

Now comes a courageous letter-writer, who declines identity, addressing himself "to the lowest stupe on earth, Jingo." The message is printed on a sympathy card and states, in part:

"Doesn't your conscience bother you? Coward! At least Bandy might get to heaven—you'll not even get in the door, you dope! Yes, I feel much better since I wrote and sent this. It did me good—and left you know I think you're nothing."

Yes, little one, Bandy MIGHT get to heaven. For the adult view of his chances, Jingo suggests a heart to heart talk with your daddy, preferably while the radio is tuned to WAPL and Bandy's show.

A youth center in any town where there is none is an admirable goal, but let's keep this thing in the realm of reality: It's an awfully grand promotion—for WAPL.

Jingo's Jewels: Ernest Borgatop a hotel nine continues to reap cash from his "Marty" Oscar. He's been signed to play Spy Boris Morris in "Spy and Counter-spy" for Columbia Pictures. He's also scheduled for "They Came to Cordura," an upcoming Rita Hayworth and Gary Cooper picture. . . . Pvt. Elvis Presley will be shipped to Germany about Sept. 1. . . . James Dunn probably will get the Spencer Tracy role for the tele-series based on the movie "Father of the Bride." Fred Astaire has turned it down. . . . Cooper, by the way, has a hip injury which may end his cowboy career.

Milton Berle and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Prima evidently have made up and will co-star Wednesday nights next season in a new TV show. . . . Watch for Steve Allen to have a heavy Hollywood flavor when he returns. He's rumored to have okayed Hollywood telecasts for his show. Gets him away from Ed Sullivan in competing for guests. . . . Gordon Scott, former movie Tarzan, will appear in "Fastest Gun Alive," TV oat-burner series. . . . It's still hard to believe: Lawrence Welk at Carnegie Hall Aug. 1. . . . Shirley MacLaine and Ginger Rogers have signed for TV specs next season, Shirley for five and Ginger for four, all on NBC-TV.

Columbia Pictures will team Frank Sinatra and Brigitte Bardot in the musical "Paris by Night." Shooting stars next May. . . . James Stewart will star in "The Mountain Road," Theodore H. White's best-selling novel which is a book-of-the-month pick. . . . Jill Corey, formerly of "Hit Parade," will star in "Senior Prom," an upcoming film also featuring Bob Crosby, Mitch Miller, Connie died, she consulted a couple of books on taxidermy and stuffed it. When she stumbled on the dead screech owl she prepared Broadway musical, "West Side it and entered it in the DeKalb Science fair.

Now she is trying to prepare a raccoon.

Teen-Ager's Hobby Is Amateur Taxidermy

Rockford, Ill. —(P)—Judie DeGroot isn't a bit squeamish about her hobbies — raising white rats and taxidermy.

The 16-year-old ventured into the world of natural science last fall when she obtained two albino rats, one male and one female.

When one of the baby rats died, she consulted a couple of books on taxidermy and stuffed it. When she stumbled on the dead screech owl she prepared Broadway musical, "West Side it and entered it in the DeKalb Science fair.

Now she is trying to prepare a raccoon.

U.S. Opposed To Move for Summit Talks among the nations which this country consulted.

Khrushchev had proposed that India be included in an immediate heads-of-state meeting.

Hagerty said the United States is in favor of a Japanese proposal to strengthen United Nations observer teams in Lebanon and will vote for the proposal in the U. N. security council.

In reply to a question, Hagerty said he knew of no plans for this country to intervene in Jordan.

President Eisenhower met with his top diplomatic and military advisers in an extraordinary Sunday afternoon session at the White House yesterday to consider what the United States should do about Khrushchev's move.

Khrushchev's Proposal
The Soviet premier had sent notes to the leaders of the United States, Britain, France, and India calling for a summit conference to open at Geneva on Tuesday or any other time, and he expressed willingness if necessary to meet in Washington. He accused this country and Britain of committing aggression by sending troops into Lebanon and Jordan and declared they had gravely endangered the peace.

The sensational Soviet gambit, authorities here said, put the two western powers in a bad spot before world public opinion, already alarmed over the possibilities of war in the Middle East.

Eisenhower, who had flown to his Gettysburg farm for a 1-day respite with his family, conferred with Secretary of State Dulles by telephone. Dulles discussed the Khrushchev proposal immediately after-to halt sniping at aircraft and marine guards. At least six military transports have been hit by rifle or machine gun fire. No injuries have resulted. The flight path into Beirut airport takes planes over rebel territory.

A U.S. embassy spokesman denied Cairo's charges that a U.A.R. commercial airliner was fired on by U.S. forces and made to turn back from Beirut airport.

"The fire was from the same insurgent forces who have been shooting at U.S. Air Force transports," an information officer said.

A marine lost two fingers and a thumb of his left hand at Beirut's airport today by an explosion in his cook fire. The marines started an investigation as to whether rebels had planted a bomb.

Bottle Explodes
Children selling pop have tagged after the marines in droves, and one left a bottle Saturday which exploded. It had been filled with gasoline and equipped with a time bomb. It did no damage.

Meanwhile, Jordan has made a complete diplomatic break with Nasser's U.A.R. The foreign ministry in Amman announced the break at the same time King Hussein's government received a $124 million shot in the arm from the United States to aid it over economic hurdles in the present crisis.

Nasser had returned to ward with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd.

Lloyd and Dulles met again at Amman since April, day respite with his family. Sunday morning just before the 1957, when the young king conferred with Secretary of State Dulles by telephone. Dulles discussed the Khrushchev proposal immediately after-

Cairo after a diplomatic expedition that took him to Yugoslavia, the Soviet Union and Syria.

Some 1,400 more American troops landed in Beirut yesterday, bringing the total in Lebanon to about 9,400. The new arrivals brought in the first heavy artillery as well as cooks, supply and maintenance men that indicated the United States might be getting ready for a long stay.

"Our biggest problem at the moment is keeping out Lebanese kids who want to sell the troops soft drinks," said an army spokesman.

Robert Murphy, U. S. deputy undersecretary of state sent by President Eisenhower to help work out a political solution to the Lebanese crisis, called on Paul Meouchi, pro-rebel patriarch of the Maronite Christian church.

Silent About Details
Murphy refused to indicate what was discussed, but the call indicated he was making contact with pro-western President Camille Chamoun's opposition. Rebel leaders had made no move to contact U. S. officials on the ground that their country's crisis is purely an internal matter.

Nasser's recognition of the new regime in Iraq touched off the final break with Jordan. King Hussein, the junior partner in Jordan's federation with Iraq, has claimed the federation still exists with him as head of Jordan as well as Iraq. King Faisal, Hussein's cousin, was killed during the Iraq coup, and the Iraqi rebel government has denounced the tie with Jordan.

There had been no Egyptian ambassador in Hussein's capital at Amman since April, day respite with his family. Sunday morning just before the 1957, when the young king conferred with Secretary of State Dulles by telephone. Dulles discussed the Khrushchev proposal immediately afterployes of the U.A.R. embassy were ordered out yesterday.

Oil Airlift Underway

The United States presented its $124 million check in Amman. A U. S. embassy spokesman explained $5 million would help pay for transporting oil to Jordan to help combat the critical shortage created by the loss of sources in Iraq, the rest of the money for whatever economic purpose Hussein's government sees fit.

The oil airlift to Jordan went ahead. A U. S. embassy spokesman reported yesterday that seven American Globemaster planes had made 14 flights, each carrying 25 tons of oil.

Hussein also asked for U. S. troops — and said he expected to get them, but it seemed more likely that the United States at this stage would leave military aid to Hussein to the British. There are now about 2,000 British paratroopers in Jordan and the Jordan government so far has been able to keep pro-Nasser elements under control.

The oil airlift reportedly produced tense relations between the United States and Saudi Arabia, which refused to permit the big tanker planes to fly over Saudi Arabian territory from Bahrain. The oil reportedly is coming from a U. S. Navy supply ship off Beirut with the planes flying across Israel.

The Saudi refusal to permit the oil planes to fly across Arabia apparently stemmed from a fear of Nasser. U. A. R. propaganda is strong in Saudi Arabia's few cities and Sheikh Abdullah Tariki, the only Saudi Arabian oil expert who has enough know-how to run his country's petroleum office, is a Nasser supporter.

The British sent reinforcements to the Persian gulf island of Bahrain, which lies off the coast of the tiny protectorate of Kuwait, one of Britain's chief sources of oil.

Sheikh Abdullah Salah, who rules Kuwait with British protection, conferred with Nasser in Damascus yesterday, the

Eight Young Women Presented At 20th Annual Assembly Ball

Escorted by their fathers, eight young women were presented in formal ceremonies Saturday night to members of North Shore Golf club at the club's 20th Annual Assembly ball.

Introduced to the club membership were Miss Jean Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Davis, 1705 Hycrest drive, Appleton; Miss Judith Mary Gill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Philip Gill, 324 Ninth street, Neenah; Miss Kathy Hedlund, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Hedlund, 427 Park drive, Neenah;

Miss Nancy Lou Hildebrand, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William Hildebrand, 351 Naymut street, Menasha; Miss Marcia Manier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Manier, 1236 E. Opechee street, Appleton; Miss Sue McConnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Palmer B. McConnell, 324 Park drive, Neenah; Miss Stephanie Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Roberts, 308 E. Wisconsin avenue, Neenah; and Miss Helen Mary Rugland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Rugland, 124 River drive, Appleton.

Club President Frederick Leech made the presentation in the club ballroom at 10 o'clock in the evening. For the occasion, the hall's columns were decked with bouquets of peach-pink gladioli and white majestic daisies, with green fern and philodendron used to complete the setting which framed the presentees and their fathers.

Immediately after the introduction the young women had their first dance with their fathers. The orchestra played "A Pretty Girl Is Like a Melody," and while the couples danced, the escorts of the young women cut in to begin the "rush dance," a tradition at each Assembly ball.

Prior to the presentation ceremonies, the young women, their parents and their escorts had dined at the club. The dinner was preceded by a "cocktail" party in honor of the presentees at the Walter Rugland home. Evening dancing which began at 9 o'clock and continued until 1 o'clock, was followed by a breakfast party for the young people at the William Roberts home.

The young women were dressed in "debutante" white formal gowns of floor length for the occasion. Each presentee carried a small white basket filled with white snapdragons and pink pinocchio roses. Miss Davis chose a silk organza gown detailed with a softly draped empire bodice and accented by an embroidered white camellia. She was escorted by Clarence Kramlich, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kramlich, Sr., 1212 E. Opechee street, Appleton. In fall, she will enter Barat college Lake Forest, Ill.

A hooped skirt of white organza highlighted Miss Gill's gown, which was fashioned with an off-the-shoulder neckline. Embroidered organza trimmed the bodice front and edged the skirt hemline. Her companion for the evening was John Zenko, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Zenko, Sr., Pembine. She will matriculate at Mount Mary college, Milwaukee.

Escorting Miss Hedlund to the ball was Stephen Schultz, son of Dr. and Mrs. William Schultz, 605 Elm street, Neenah. Miss Hedlund's gown of nylon point d'esprit over taffeta had lace rows accenting the bouffant skirt and bodice designed with an off-the-shoulder neckline. She will pursue studies at Smith college, Northampton, Mass.

Miss Hildebrand asked Paul Schmidt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Schmidt, route 1, Menasha, to be her companion for the ball. The strapless bodice of her silk bombazine dress was complemented by a full skirt decked with re-embroidered antique lace medallions. She has selected the University of Wisconsin for the furthering of her education.

Sherman Marty, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Marty, 777 Elm street, Neenah, was the escort of Miss Manier, who will enter Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill., in fall. She donned a gown of peau de soie, the bodice fashioned with tiny straps and a back bow controlling fullness in the skirt.

Miss McConnell, who will undertake freshman studies at Lawrence college in Appleton, appeared in a gown of chantilly lace over net and taffeta. The strapless bodice was accented by a wide cummerbund of peau de soie ending in a large back bow; its streamers falling over the many-tiered skirt. Her escort was Marvin Carlson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carlson, 625 Wilson street, Neenah.

A white velvet ribbon defined the empire waistline of the strapless silk organza gown worn by Miss Roberts for the occasion; the ribbon ends falling to skirt hemline from a high back row. Her companion for the evening was Richard Du Bois, son of Mrs. H. A. Du Bois, 301 E. Wisconsin avenue, Neenah. Miss Roberts will enter Barat college in the fall.

Miss Rugland donned a silk organza gown with a portrait neckline and bouffant skirt. The dress was delicately appliqued with imported lace and braid. The young woman, who will enter Occidental college, Los Angeles, Calif., was escorted to the ball by Don Call, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ara Call, 911 E. Hancock street, Appleton.

A ninth young woman, Miss Mary Strange, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Strange, 1703 Reid drive, Appleton, was also to be introduced at the ball. However, she is currently vacationing with her family in the British Isles and is not expected home until later this month.

Arrangements for this year's ball were handled by the mothers of the young women. Invitations were issued by North Shore directors to club members. Mrs. Hedlund served as general chairman of ball events. She was assisted by the Mmes. Davis and Strange, publicity; Mrs. Manier, decorations; Mrs. McConnell, flowers; Mrs. Hildebrand, pictures; Mrs. Rugland, dinner, and Mrs. Roberts, lighting.

The eight young women, all June high school graduates, bring the total of presentees to be introduced to the North Shore club membership to 111. The Assembly ball is a traditional club event at which daughters of club members who reach their 18th birthday anniversary during the calendar year are presented.

In Good Taste Question on Gift Cost for Showers

BY EMILY POST
 Dear Mrs. Post: Don't you think that something should be done about limiting the value of shower presents? After all, shower presents are not supposed to be the same as wedding presents, and many of the bride's friends are unable to give handsome shower presents and then a nice wedding present besides. The other afternoon I went to a shower for a girl I know and brought her a nice present, but not a very expensive one. All of the others gave her really valuable gifts which made mine look like nothing at all.

Answer: I agree with you that shower presents should be small ones, and these other presents should be given to her at some other time. Judging by several letters similar to this, it would seem that the shower question is becoming a serious one, and I do think it is a pity to let the spontaneous lightness of a friendly gesture become a burdensome obligation.

Sincere Compliments
 Dear Mrs. Post: I've had a friendly discussion with my wife about the good taste of giving compliments. Is it not overdue? My wife feels that it shows appreciation.

Answer: If we didn't say something sometimes about the becomingness of a friend's dress or the beauty of her new car, we would be thought lacking in friendly interest as well as in perception. But to go about paying fulsome compliments to everyone without sincerity or discrimination is one definition of a bore.

Nick Todd, Singer Renews Friendship With Appletonians

Nick Todd, recording artist, renewed a friendship with Appleton residents, Mrs. Lois P. Meade, 515 N. Vine street, and her daughter, Polly, on Sunday when the young singer was entertained by the Meades at a noon dinner party at North Shore Golf club.

Todd, the younger brother of Pat Boone, singing idol of teenagers nation-wide, was in Appleton to perform this weekend in the "1958 Star Night Revue" at the Outagamie County fair at Seymour. His appearance here was the first in a circuit of fair shows being undertaken by the singer.

The Meades became acquainted with Todd in July, 1957, at Lexington, Ky., where the Appleton residents were attending the Lexington Junior League horse show, in which Polly had entered her horse. Todd was there visiting his brother, Pat, who was on location for the filming of "April Love," in which he starred.

Among guests at the dinner party were Admiral and Mrs. Ernst von Heimburg, Shawano, Miss Janet Sharp Appleton, Kenneth DuVall, Jr., Menasha, and Dan Mann, Menasha.

Todd first skyrocketed to fame with his recording of "Plaything," on the Dot label. He is a graduate of David Lipscomb college, Nashville, Tenn., where he received a bachelor of arts degree.

Culbertson on Bridge

By Ely Culbertson

A casual observer—not a bridge player, himself—might reasonably conclude that inasmuch as thirty-odd years have elapsed since the start of contract bridge, there should be considerable fluency in the language of the game, which is the bidding.

Unhappily, that is not the case; there is still a babel of tongues. Moreover, this is not confined to players from different schools of bidding—there are also costly misunderstandings among players of the same school. The hand below is an ironic illustration.

There would not be much point to this story if North and South had been "amateurs" or even if they had been experts who had not played together often enough for a fair understanding, but in fact they were both famous members of the same bridge club. Thus, there were no mitigating circumstances in this rather remarkable bidding sequence:

Designing Woman

BY ELIZABETH HILLVER

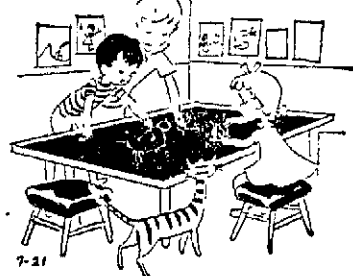

The big table that the children need for play projects—give it a special top and they can draw and write directly on it all they please. Mount hardboard on the ready-made table or make a table with a hardboard top over plywood and paint the top with blackboard paint.

Paper large enough for the little ones' artwork is always difficult to come by, but the blackboard table top substitutes for a never-ending supply. The paint that makes it so easy to erase or wash and start over comes in black or soft green and brushes on as easily as any other paint. Just make sure that it's a widespreading table you have there—little people bent on expressing themselves have big ideas.

Answers to Queries

Mrs. R. D. "We want to paper our bedroom in a colonial print but the slant of one wall, beginning 3 1/2 feet from the floor, gives us a problem. The head of the bed must be against this wall and I'm afraid that having it papered to the ceiling will cause a closed-in effect. Would the solution be to continue the ceiling paint down the wall?"

Although continuing the ceiling color down the wall will help the effect of the slanting wall, there's a better solution to your problem. Select an all-over pattern, which looks the same upside down and sideways as right side up and use it on all the walls and on the ceiling, too. This unifies the room background and minimizes the wall irregularity.

Mrs. J. H. "Which would be the better color for my living room walls, dull yellow or hony color to go with a sofa and chairs in brown with an orange and white design, and a light beige chair. Should the fiber rug be painted brown, beige or sandalwood?"

What color the rug can be painted depends on what color it is now. If it is medium or dark, a new light color probably won't be successful and you may have to choose the brown to cover well. If it is light, the rug can be a slightly darker color and in this case you might decide on a rich dull yellow for both rug and the walls. If the rug must be brown, the walls could be either the beige or the yellow, or even a soft shade of the orange.

DEAR ANN: I'm writing to you in regard to a 68-year-old juvenile delinquent. We've been married 43 years and he has left home 15 times. He stays away anywhere from two days to two weeks.

We have three married daughters and he is on the Ann Landers outs with all the son-in-laws. They are not welcome in our house and he raises sand whenever I go over to see them.

He is always right and I am always wrong. If I said the sun came up in the east he would swear it was in the west. He will not go to bed at night until he reads your column OUT LOUD. I think you are the only woman in the world he has respect for. Can you say something to this overgrown baby?—S.C.G.

This "overgrown baby" is almost three score and ten. I'm not going to change him, and neither are you. Your best bet is to tune out this tyrant in rompers and not permit him to spoil your relationships with your family. Go visit them as often as you like, and if he wants to stay home and look for the sun to set in the east, what do you care?

DEAR ANN: My minister suggested I write to you. He wants your opinion before he gives me the final word.

I'm 34, Dick is 35. We went together two years, and I became pregnant. He married me and four months later I had a miscarriage. We never had any children after that. He's hated me ever since for "ruining his life and making a drunk out of him."

Dick is sick from drinking at least three days a week. He treats me like a dog. He has thrown burning cigarettes in my face and singed my hair. No name is too rotten for him to call me. Sometimes at night when he comes toward me with that look of animal passion I feel like killing him.

We have $30,000 in the bank. When we married we had nothing. We bought a piece of property which turned out to be valuable. We spend very little money and have no friends.

I'm sad all the time, as if someone dear to me had died. Often I wish I could go to sleep and never wake up. Please tell me what to do.—M.K.

No woman should live with a man who treats her "like a dog." See a lawyer about separate maintenance at once. The feelings you describe are symptoms of mental illness. You need a doctor's care.

Your husband should look up Alcoholics Anonymous and/or psychiatrist. If you would both spend some of that $30,000 to restore your mental health it would be the best investment of your lives.

In the meantime, live apart. Tell him to send the support checks in the mail. When (if ever) he learns how to control his violent temper and live without liquor tell him you'll consider a reconciliation, but not until you have proof that he has changed.

DEAR ANN: Our young daughter married a fellow who had to go into the service after the wedding. They didn't even have a honeymoon.

I had a letter from her yesterday that broke my heart. They rented an apartment which is a terrible dump and she is miserable. She writes that she was up all night because of squeaking sounds that came from the pantry. She's scared to death of mice and couldn't sleep. She took a flashlight into the kitchen and saw two little mice fighting in the corner. She almost went into hysterics.

Now she and her husband are arguing. She wants to move and he says they can't afford anything better. They pay $52 a month rent and just get by. What do you advise?—UNHAPPY MOTHER.

What does your daughter expect for $52 a month—bull fights? Tell her to call an exterminator and buy some dime store mouse-traps. Or get a cat.

If she's old enough to be married she should be able to cope with a few rodents.

P. S. Mansions sometimes have mice, too.

Our Children

One Concise Order Best for Young Fry

BY ANGELO PATRI

A child among adults is often confused by many voices. His mother tells him to stop now and pick up his toys, dinner will be ready soon. Auntie chimes in with, "Come along. Did you hear what your mother said?"—Big Sister calls, "Jimmy, if you're coming, come. I can't wait all day to wash your hands."—One does not wait for the other before putting in his word. The result is that the youngster remains as he was, seated on the floor, looking from one to the other, too confused to do anything else.

The same thing happens when a child, of any age, is given orders on top of orders. "Get that box out of the way and sweep the corner and when you've done that be sure you sweep the other side. Put the bags up on the shelf and don't forget the cat is around and make sure you shut the closet door after you. When you've finished close the garage doors and then see what your mother wants you to do. If you go down street stop in at the cleaners and bring home my suit. Oh, and see that the car is brushed out so it will be in shape for tonight."

That's no exaggeration. I listened to just such a stream of directions given an 11-year-old boy who stood looking at his father with an air of a lost child. He was just that. He'd been drowned out by too many directions, few of which he needed.

The same thing happens when a child makes a mistake and someone in the family points it out. That is a signal for everybody in the room to accent the first speaker's words. Not only is the present error emphasized but all the ones of the past are called up and brushed brightly to remind him of them. The result of this is a confused, angry, child who feels that he is all wrong, all alone and friendless.

It would be well to have the family understand that one voice at a time is all that is necessary and all that is allowed. One direction at a time is about all most children under ten can hear and follow. If it is necessary to give him more than one order ask him to repeat them

Bribe Husband to See Doctor, Dr. Molner Advises Woman

By Joseph G. Molner, M. D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: What about continuous irritation of the throat. My husband has had an inflamed throat for over a year. He says it was caused by bad teeth. He had his teeth out nearly a year ago, but the throat is just as bad and the gums don't heal. He is only 39."

"If you do find time and space for this, spare no words for cowards who are afraid to see a doctor till it is too late. He smokes a pack and a half a day. His cars are beginning to run. He doesn't complain about any soreness of the throat — D.M."

Come, come, Summer down. Why should I call the idiot a coward? He probably knows it already.

You didn't mention it, but I presume he's afraid—or you suspect that he's afraid—of cancer, so he won't go to the doctor. Have I guessed right? Of course, from the symptoms you describe, we wouldn't expect to find cancer. It could be, in unusual circumstances. But from the signs, it just doesn't sound like it.

Probably Infection

It sounds, rather, like some sort of infection that has established itself, and cancer is not an infection.

For all I know, your husband's teeth may have caused the irritated throat. But just having the teeth pulled out doesn't necessarily solve anything, any more than a case of rabies is cured by shooting the dog that bit you. Then again, maybe the teeth weren't the cause. Maybe they were one of several results of something else.

The whole combination of things — teeth that obviously some dentist felt required removing, gums that do not heal, irritated throat, and running ears (the ears are closely connected to the nose and throat passages) indicate some sort of infection that seems to be playing hob all over the lot.

Maybe Stubborn

If your husband is brave enough to go to the dentist, I don't see why he shouldn't be more than brave enough to go to the doctor. Maybe you've made such an issue of this that he won't go out of sheer stubbornness.

As I so often say, I can only conjecture—I can't diagnose anything without seeing the patient, and I admit that I have no right at all to intimate that he is stubborn, because I haven't even seen or talked to him.

So I hereby withdraw the whole remark.

All I do is suggest that your husband go see his family doctor. Let's bribe him to do so. Tell him if he'll do that, both you and I will forthwith stop nagging him. 'Spose that'll work?

Tough Problem

"Dear Dr. Molner: I am 40 pounds overweight, diabetic, but not real serious, and I have a stomach ulcer that was bleeding but is now coated over, but I must diet to keep it from breaking open again. The things I dare eat with my ulcer conflict with my overweight diet, and my diabetic diet also conflicts with my ulcer diet. That's my problem.—L. E. F."

To which, my friend, I say "amen." It's a tough problem, and the best answer is to avoid sugar (for the diabetes), and follow the ulcer diet otherwise, but eat a little bit less of everything to take care of the overweight problem. Or, still better, try to work off some weight. But your problem, frankly, takes will power at the table.

Most Drinking Found In Christian Nations

Cleveland — A report from the International Temperance association says 75 per cent of the world's population does not drink alcoholic beverages — and the 25 per cent who do are largely in so-called Christianized nations.

It adds: "Drinking, therefore, apparently has its roots in Christianity."

Girl Praised For Old Car; Rolls It Over

A 16-year-old Appleton girl rolled her 1938 La Salle automobile over at the West College avenue viaduct Sunday evening about 10 minutes after she had been commended by WAPL disc jockey Bob Bandy for having the best looking old car he had seen.

Judith Lynn Johnson, 1805 S. Oneida street, told county police she was going west when cars ahead of her stopped. She said she swung to the right side of the road to avoid hitting the car ahead and went into the ditch.

The car rolled over and landed on its top in the ditch. With a smashed fender and the top dented in, the car doesn't look so good anymore, police commented.

Neither Miss Johnson or the two girls riding with her were hurt.

Youths Held for Fight at Tavern

Green Bay — Sheriff Artley Skenandore said today he will ask warrants charging aggravated assault against two men alleged to have seriously injured another man outside a Brown county tavern about midnight Saturday.

He identified the assailants as Donald Denny, 20, Menasha, and Reginald Danforth, 22, route 3, Seymour. The third man was Edward Hill, 21, Oneida.

Hill was taken from Schuyler's tavern, on Highway 54 at Oneida, to St. Vincent hospital, Green Bay, where he remained today.

The sheriff said the fight started between Danforth and Hill, with Denny joining in later to assist Danforth. The fight at one time almost was broken up by onlookers. It resumed, however, with Hill receiving a beating which rendered him unconscious.

Hill, Skenandore said, couldn't answer questions Sunday, his face was so swollen.

Both of Hill's assailants are on probation, Skenandore said. Danforth for another assault and Denny for breaking and entering. Both are being held at the Brown county jail.

Police Find Three Youths Carrying Beer

City police Sunday night picked up three Appleton youths, one 14, one 17 and one 18, with cans of beer in their pockets. They were walking west on the Soo Line railroad tracks.

The 18-year-old admitted buying the beer at an Appleton beer depot. The boys were turned over to their parents, police said.

2 Small Girls Drown Sunday

Slip Into Deep Water; Mother's Rescue Try Fails

Green Bay — Linda and Lorraine Bukoske, ages 10 and 8, drowned at the mouth of the Suamico river Sunday afternoon while swimming with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bukoske, route 1, Oneida, and four brothers and sisters.

The two young victims fell into deep water while wading along the south shore of the river where it flows into Green Bay.

Their mother made a desperate effort to save them, grabbing an innertube, which the girls were using and one of the girls, but they slipped below the surface and out of reach.

The girls disappeared about 50 feet from shore. Linda's body was found about an hour and 15 minutes later near the spot where they went under. Lorraine's body was recovered another hour later about 50 feet farther out in the mouth of the river.

Couldn't Locate

When the girls disappeared, the girls' father and a large number of swimmers joined in the search for them, but couldn't find the bodies. Rescue boats of the Brown county sheriff's department and the De Pere Sportsmen's club rescue squad immediately were called to the scene.

The girls' father was changing clothes to join them in swimming when the tragedy occurred.

Funeral services will be at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning at St. Joseph Catholic church, Oneida. The bodies are at the Lyndahl Funeral Home, Green Bay.

Other Drownings

Two others drowned in Wisconsin waters during the weekend.

The body of Douglas J. Pfanky, 17, of Ithaca, was found Sunday in four feet of water at Madison's Vilas park beach where about 250 people were gathered. The drowning was discovered when a small child stumbled over the body about 50 feet from shore.

Appleton Post-Crescent 27
Monday, July 21, 1958

Victor Nagy, 9, La Crosse, drowned Saturday while wading in the Mississippi river at Pettibone park. Authorities said the boy stepped off a sand bar into deep water.

County Fair Board Lays Final Plans

Improvements to Grounds Told;
Set New Industrial Exhibit

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

Oshkosh — Final plans for the 1958 fair scheduled for Aug. 27 to 30 were made at a meeting Saturday of the Winnebago county fair board of directors. Most of the 22 directors attended the session.

Members of the county board fair committee, which meet with the directors, expressed confidence in the operation of the fair as did Joseph Drexler, county board chairman. They discussed the maintenance work being done on the property, stating that the grandstand has been fully inspected by an independent construction engineer from Menasha. Floor boards were removed from all supporting beams and joists and necessary repairs were made.

A letter from the inspecting engineer stating that the structure was in very good condition was read to the committee. The fence surrounding the property is being straightened and repaired and new switchboards have been installed, along with some additional wiring.

Improve Fair Grounds
Lewis C. Magnusen, fair president, said that it is the association's intention to improve the fair grounds as much as the limited budget will allow. He said that all rentals will go directly into the cost of the upkeep of the buildings.

The directors said they were pleased with the executive committee's selection of attractions and felt them to be diversified.

Ohio Woman Runs Car Into Ditch; Had Fled Home

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

Oshkosh — A 34-year-old Dayton Ohio housewife, drove her car off Highway 41 near the intersection at Highway 45 near Oshkosh, for no apparent reason, at 12:58 Sunday morning. Her car traveled 447 feet after leaving the highway, crossing the Valley motel lawn and an adjacent field, and ending in a ditch along Highway 45.

She was taken to Mercy hospital by a sheriff's office squad car but was found to be unhurt, although she would not talk. She wrote down that she had left her Dayton home on Thursday afternoon after arguing with her husband and was traveling with no particular destination.

She later told police that she had not slept since leaving home and had only stopped briefly at filling stations. She asked that no one be notified of her whereabouts. The sheriff's office notified the Dayton sheriff's department and learned that a missing persons report had been filed. It was then learned that commitment papers for her were to have been signed Saturday morning.

The husband requested that his wife be held in Mercy hospital until he arrived.

Fire Damage Was Estimated at $30,000 when an early morning blaze leveled the barn at the Chris Meltz farm in the town of Vinland. Livestock was led out safely after the fire was discovered about 4 o'clock in the morning but an estimated 135 chickens were destroyed. Farm machinery also was damaged plus some of the milk-house equipment. (Post-Crescent Photo)

2 Men Admit Tipsy Driving Each Fined $100, Costs in Menasha, Neenah Courts

Menasha — Two drivers

pleaded guilty to drunken driving in Menasha and Neenah police courts this morning and each was fined $100 and costs.

Fined by Menasha Police Justice Arthur Ales was Eugene Schanke, 21, 2 Main street, who admitted drunken driving in the 600 block on Second street at 6:57 Saturday morning. Police were called when Schanke was observed driving a car over curbs and terraces.

Neenah Police Justice Edmund P. Arpin, fined Jack D. Stewart, 25, Mason street, New Holstein, after Stewart pleaded guilty to drunken driving on Main street at 10:50 Saturday night. Stewart tested .22 on a drunkometer test while .15 is considered evidence of intoxication.

Stewart also was fined $2 and costs for driving with an expired driving license. Both men lost driving privileges for one year.

Gasoline Pump Knocked Over by Car, Starts Fire

Menasha — A gasoline pump at the Consolidated station, 221 Washington street, was damaged when it was knocked over by a car driven by Walter Lehrer, Jr., 716 Carver lane, at 9:34 Sunday night.

When the pump fell a fire started and the Menasha fire department was called to the scene. A dry chemical was used to put out the blaze.

Lehrer told police he started to pull away from the station and his rear bumper hooked a hose pulling the pump over.

Neenah Committees Slate Three Meetings

Neenah — Three city committees will meet this week. The street and sanitation committee will meet at 7 o'clock tonight, the water works board at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and the board of public works at 7 o'clock at night on Tuesday.

Involving Drivers From Neenah and Oshkosh

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

Oshkosh — Ten persons were injured in four traffic mishaps in the county over the weekend. Four were injured in two of the crashes.

Four were injured, one severely, in a two-car collision at 11:10 Saturday evening on Highway 45 near Oshkosh. A car driven by William A. Kienast, 21, Oshkosh, traveling north on Highway 45, pulled out to pass a car and ran headlong into the car driven by Richard H. Passengers injured in the Kienast car were Barbara Lee Richards, 18, Oshkosh, who suffered severe skin abrasions to the legs, hands, face and shoulders. Ralph Strong, 20, Hortonville, who suffered bumps and bruises on both legs but was not hospitalized and the driver who was cut about the face.

Line of Traffic
In the other car, Herman Bruce, 55, also of Nicolet boulevard, Neenah, suffered severe lacerations of the scalp and face, a possible coronary attack, cerebral hemorrhage, Oshkosh, Wagner hit the road and fractured right leg. The injured parties were taken to Mercy hospital, Oshkosh, by a Miller ambulance.

4-H Girls Have Bread-Making Demonstrations

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

Oshkosh—Techniques of kneading and shaping breads and rolls have been demonstrated for county 4-H girls at recent meetings. Breads that don't slice easily after being frozen may be from the dough being too light before baking or that the bread pan has sides that are too flared.

Another reason might be too much dough in the bread pan, Miss Lois Klusmeyer, county home agent, explained.

To test for lightness before baking, press the dough gently with your fingertip. If the dent remains, the bread is ready for baking. Homemade bread should be tender and easy to handle whether it is freshly baked or stored in the freezer.

Quick breads, which are easy and economical to make, can add variety and supplement the bread supply. These breads are called "quick" because they are made with leavening agents that act more quickly than yeast.

Other ingredients necessary are flour, liquid and fat. Salt is added for flavor, sugar is sometimes used and many quick breads include eggs. Making several varieties of these breads was one of the monthly meeting topics of county home-maker clubs during the past year.

First Round Champs in 17-7 Romp; Winners Make 17 Hits; Dowling Knocks in Six Runs

Neenah — St. Margaret Mary's shellacked the Neenah Church Softball league all-star team 17-7 Sunday night to prove its first half championship was no fluke.

Seventeen base hits, including three doubles and two triples, were sprayed over the Neenah recreation diamond by St. Margaret Mary while the all-stars managed 10 safeties, eight singles and two triples.

Manager John Dowling led the St. Margaret Mary hit parade with four hits and six runs batted in. Al De Roche chipped in with three bingles. Only one of 10 Margaret Mary players who saw action failed to get a hit.

The league champions opened up the scoring with four markers in the first on only one hit. All-star hurler Charlie Shepard walked the first four hitters to force in a run. Dowling's single then drove in two more and an error sent run No. 4 across the plate.

Two In Second

St. Margaret Mary batters found the range for two more runs in the second for a 6-0 lead. The all-stars came through with four tallies in its half of the second on four hits including Bob Williams' three-bagger.

The league champions scored a pair of runs in the fourth and the all-stars came back with a duplicate in the fifth to keep the game close at 8-6.

Then the rains came as St. Margaret Mary stormed in five markers in the sixth, three in the seventh and a solo count in the eighth for a 17-6 margin. The All-Stars' last score came in the ninth on an error.

Shepard chucked the first three frames for the Stars, giving up six tallies on two hits. Darrell Schultz went two and two-thirds innings, permitting seven runs on nine safeties. All-Star Manager "Tex" Harding went the rest of the way allowing four runs on six hits.

Jitter's Takes Second Place in Green Bay Meet

Menashans Drop 18-2 Decision to Subway in Finale

Menasha — Jitter and Joe's finished second in the Green Bay open softball tournament over the weekend. The Menashans bowed to Subway Bar of Appleton 18-2 in Sunday's championship tilt.

The Twin Citizens blanked Schaden's of Green Bay 3-0 in Saturday's second round tilt, and bested Irene's All-Stars of Green Bay 11-7 in Sunday's semi-finals.

The Twin City Merchants defeated Silver Rail of Green Bay Saturday night, lost to Subway in the semis and bested Irene's for third place.

Pitcher Shortage
Jitter's ran into a shortage of pitchers. Ace hurler Fred Fuller injured his arm in Saturday night's game and "Sam" Gartzke who had seen no previous mound action this season, was forced to hurl both the semi-final and championship games. Cliff Brinkman, "Wimpy" Drum and Doug Cane, the other three hurlers on the staff, weren't available for Sunday's tussles.

The Menashans were stopped with six hits by Subway's Les Dietzen in the final game. Subway made 11 off Gartzke and Jitter's backed up his hurlers with some shoddy support. The winners scored six runs in their first inning on only two hits and made nine runs on four hits in the fifth.

Crack Hitters
"Bud" Koehnke and Dietzen had three hits for Subway and Don Gauthier and Bob Drexler each made two. Dietzen, Don Bodway and Hawkins had homers. Bob Peck had two bingles for Jitter's.

Gartzke stopped Irene's with five hits in the semi-finals. Jitter's scored four runs in the fourth and five in the fifth. Peck led Jitter's attack with three hits. "Pop" Nielsen, Carl Springer and Gartzke each had two. Gartzke and Nielsen belted homers in the fourth.

Fuller and Cliff Brinkman combined to pitch a three-hitter against Schaden's. Jitter's had five hits off veteran Stu Santy. Rollie Weiss had a double. The winners scored a run in the third and two in the fifth.

The "Rec" now has a 4-4 record and will make its next start against Blue Ribbon Bar Sunday afternoon at the Sixth street field.

Menasha Beats New London In Legion Regional Opener

16-3 Win Gives Lenz-Gazecki Nine 3-0 Conference Record

BY KIT CAREY

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Menasha — The Lenz-Gazecki American Legion ball club walked out of the Menasha ball park Saturday afternoon with its victorious record intact, its state tourney chances as good as ever, and the sweet smell of a sound success in its nostrils.

The Menasha nine turned back a visiting New London squad by a 16 to 3 score in the second meeting of the clubs this season. Ten days earlier they scored 15 runs while shutting out New London.

The game counted in Fox Valley league play as well as Region five of the state tournament. Next Saturday Menasha will meet the winner of the Green Bay - Sturgeon Bay contest in the second regional round. The state tournament climaxes at Rhinelander on Aug. 8, 9 and 10.

Victor in Saturday's contest was Don Jensen, starting pitcher who was relieved in the seventh inning when it became obvious that New London was done for. Jensen gave up two runs and four hits in his 7-inning appearance. Bill Steger, Jensen's successor, gave up the other New London run and hit.

2-Run First Inning
Menasha got rolling slowly in the first inning when, after Don Kaufert had walked and Bill Gamme had doubled, Bill Bauer scored both men on a single to right field.

New London kept it close in the second when lead-off man and pitcher Lonnie Kringle lifted a long homer to right. The visitors knotted the score at 2-2 in the third when Gary Herres singled, moved to second on a walk given up to Jerry Me-

Raiders Capture Twin Bill

Cedar Rapids, Iowa — The Fox Cities open an important home series with fifth place Winona tonight after dropping their second doubleheader in three nights to Cedar Rapids Sunday.

The Sunday afternoon and Sunday evening setbacks dropped the Foxes into last place in the Three-I league, replacing red-hot Winona.

Ron Bloodworth took the loss in the afternoon tilt. He was lifted after allowing eight hits and four runs in the first seven innings. Lethander Dick Griffith absorbed his sixth straight setback in the night game, a Shrine night contest. Griffith, who is now 9-8 for the season, yielded nine hits and six walks in six innings.

The Foxes took a 2-0 lead in the second inning of the first game on singles by Carlos Pascual and Bob Tano, a walk to Bob Payne and Bob Van Dyke's 2-run single. The Raiders, who are now 4 1/2 games in front in the Three-I league race, tied the issue with unearned runs in the fourth and fifth and went ahead to stay in the sixth. Freedom — Rog Vander Wyt's home run with Floyd Hammen aboard in the ninth inning broke a 4-4 tie and gave Little Chute-Kimberly a 6-4 win over Freedom here Sunday in a second round Fox River Valley baseball league game. It was the winner's second in the second half.

Vander Wyt socked the ball over the center field fence after two were out and Hammen had singled to center. The ball was so close to the fence that Freedom center fielder Don Vandewettering fell over the fence trying for the ball and injured himself, requiring four stitches.

Freedom had previously tied the game in the eighth, when Ron Kressin doubled and Ron Newhouse singled him in with two out.

Double Freely Both teams doubled freely. Kressin had another for freedom in the fifth, Maulick one in the third, and Ron Herman one in the seventh. For the winners, Hammen and Jim Nirschl had one apiece in the fifth and sixth innings, respectively.

The game was called after eight innings because of the one hour and 50 minutes time limit.

In the other game played, Marinette stopped Shawano, 5-2, in a 6 1/2 inning contest. Menasha and Marinette will play in the first game of two next Saturday, July 26, at 7 o'clock in the evening. Little Chute will play Oshkosh in the second at 9 o'clock.

Left-hander Mort Drury matched Heinbigner's performance on the mound as he set New London down on two singles while going all the way, striking out four, walking none, and allowing only one man. Marlon Brown, to reach second base.

Torre, Crandall Drive in Runs In Top of Ninth

Chicago — Warren Spahn's 5-hit pitching and a 2-run rally in the ninth inning gave Milwaukee a 4-2 victory over the Chicago Cubs Sunday.

The Braves, still a half game behind league leading San Francisco, return to Milwaukee County stadium tonight in a game with the St. Louis Cardinals. A victory would put the Braves ahead of the Giants, who are idle today.

Spahn, taking his twelfth victory against six losses, had trouble twice with homer pitches. Cal Neuman made the round trip in the second inning and Dale Long homered in the seventh, tying the score.

Strikes Out 10 The only other hits off Spahn were singles. The 37-year-old southpaw struck out ten and didn't allow a walk.

Taylor Phillips, former Braves pitcher, dueling with Spahn until the ninth.

Phillips survived a second inning homer by Joe Adcock and three singles which scored a run in the fourth.

The Chicago starter retired the Braves in order in the next four innings before he ran into trouble in the ninth.

Roach Singles Second baseman Mel Roach opened the ninth with a single and advanced on Felix Mantilla's single before Don Elston replaced Phillips.

Elston struck out Henry Aaron, but Frank Torre, batting for Adcock, singled home Roach. Del Crandall's sacrifice fly scored Mantilla.

The loss was Phillips' third

Detroit's Jim Bunning Pitches No-Hitter Against Boston, 3-0

But Tigers Lose Second Game of Twin Bill, 5-2; Yankees Win Two From KC

BY JACK HAND Associated Press Staff Writer

When Jim Bunning shelved the home run ball for the strikeout pitch, he was on the way back to his brilliant 1957 form.

Detroit's 20-game winner of a year ago pitched a no-hit, no-run game against Boston's sluggers at Fenway park Sunday. Six weeks ago he couldn't get anybody out. In his first 11 games Bunning allowed 11 homers. Then he went on his strikeout spree.

Lose Ground He fanned 12 Red Sox June 11, 14 New York Yankees June 20, 10 Yanks July 16, and 12 Red Sox in his no-hitter. His total of 108 strikeouts puts him ahead of New York's Bob Turley for the American league lead.

Despite Bunning's magic, Detroit lost ground in the chase of the Yankees as did every other club. The Tigers won behind Bunning, 3-0, but lost the second game to Boston, 5-2, as Ike Delock ran his amazing won-lost record to 10-0 and 13-0 over a 2-year span.

Yogi Berra hit a 2-run homer as the Yanks took two from Kansas City, 3-1 and 8-0. As a result, New York leads the league by 11 games.

Roy Siever's ninth-inning homer in the second game aroused Washington fans to run around the bases with him, celebrating a 5-4 victory over Chicago. Dick Donovan's 5-hit

Mrs. Williams Defends State Tourney Crown

Milwaukee — Mrs. Jack Williams, a formidable defending champion, heads a record list of 168 in today's opening of the Wisconsin Women's Golf association championship tournament.

The Ozaukee Country club star had the best recorded score, 79, in Sunday's preliminary pro-ladies event at North Shore Country club and she has been shooting sub-par rounds in the Milwaukee area recently.

Two women who could challenge the champion seriously will be missing from this year's tournament.

Two Champs Absent Mrs. John Clauser of Milwaukee, 6-time state champion, decided to play in the Western amateur tournament which starts today at Oak Park, Ill. Mrs. Mary McMillin Fossum of Green Bay, 3-time state champion, also is foregoing the 1958 meet.

A new face in the regular division is Miss Carol Sorenson of Janesville, the junior champion in 1956. She played recently in the National Open.

Another strong contender is Mrs. Rita Houston of Green Bay, who defeated Mrs. Fossum one-up in the 36-hole final of last week's Northeastern Wisconsin meet at Sheboygan.

Also on hand is Sally Kloppenburg, 20, Milwaukee, who battled Mrs. Williams in the 1957 finals.

32 Low Qualifiers Mrs. Floyd Zimmerman of Fontana, who beat Mrs. Williams in the 1955 finals, also is among the 123 regulars in the meet. Mrs. Zimmerman was runnerup last Friday in the Chicago district tournament.

The 32 low qualifiers in the regular division today will make up the championship flight for match play.

There will be 30 girls in the junior event and 24 for special events.

An Oconomowoc Golf club quartet of Bob Wolfe, Mrs. James Bowel, Mrs. Richard Perrin and Mrs. Tom Kestley won the pro-ladies event with a low net of 308. The low gross score was 350, shot by North Shore's pro Ed Laneau and members Betsy Robertson, Mrs. Gordon Peck and Mrs. Marvin Rohloff.

Hortonville and Oshkosh Fall Saturday

BY HERB VAN DRIEL Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Menasha — Little Chute-Kimberly and Oshkosh survived first round play in the Menasha district semi-pro tournament with wins over Hortonville and Clintonville, respectively, at the Menasha ball park Saturday night.

Little Chute, winner of the Menasha district last year, swamped the Polar Bears, 11-3, while Oshkosh's Larry Gauger broke a 2-2 tie with a circuit blast in the bottom of the ninth to give the Merchants their initial win.

Weakened Once Gauger broke up a brilliant pitching duel between his teammate Bob Manthey and Clintonville's Lou Kort when he provided the tell-tale homer over the left field fence with none out.

Each of the right handers only weakened once during the first eight innings. Clintonville tallied its only two runs in the third when Ken Lambie, a 145 pound shortstop, homered home Don Jirschele. Oshkosh garnered a pair of runs in the sixth when Paul Moylan and Dick Bixby scored.

No Errors Afield Kort pitched a whale of a ball game only allowing six hits, striking out five and walking two. His teammates pitched in by failing to commit an error afield.

Manthey also deserved plaudits as he whiffed 11, walked none and gave up eight safeties, seven singles and a round tripper. The Oshkosh defense had three boots.

Little Chute's win was also a come-from-behind affair. Hortonville took a 2-0 early lead with a solo run in the first on Jim Steffen's round tripper over the left field barrier and another tally in the top of the second when Dick Wagoner singled home Vern Kroll.

Offings Solved In the bottom of the second the Chuteers got to Polar Bear starter Larry Huebner for five runs on three hits and Russ Tiedemann had to come in and put out the fire.

Tiedemann's offerings also were solved by Little Chute as the winners pushed across a pair of runs in the fourth and four in the fifth.

Huebner worked an inning and a third permitting five

Roman Brotz' 87-footer from Sheboygan, scratch boat of the original fleet of 80 in the 51st annual classic, was considered a shoo-in for the first to finish the 333-mile haul up the length of Lake Michigan.

At 85 miles from the finish line, closest challengers were the Dyna of Sturgeon Bay, winner of last weekend's Port Huron-to-Mackinac race on Lake Huron, and the Hilaria.

Johnny Podres won his ninth in 10 coliseum starts, shutting out Philadelphia, 6-0, on four hits Sunday.

The Giants routed Bob Friend with five runs in the first inning and went on to down Pittsburgh, 7-3, protecting their half-game lead over Milwaukee.

Finsterwald Cops PGA Test With 276 Total

Goes Into Final 36 Holes With 2-Stroke Deficit

BY HUGH FULLERTON JR. Associated Press Sports Writer

Havertown, Pa. —(AP)—Dow Finsterwald, a thoughtful and articulate young golf champion, doesn't think he's a great golfer or even an unusually good one.

As a result, he doesn't let it get him down when he finishes second or even lower in a tournament. He's probably the most relaxed player on the pro circuit.

"It feels very strange to be first," he said after winning the fortieth Professional Golfers association championship with four superb rounds of 67-72-70-67-276 over the tightly trapped Llanerch Country club course.

Two Strokes Behind He went into the fourth round two strokes behind Snead and one behind Bill Casper.

He picked up four strokes against both Snead and Casper on the first nine.

Casper parred the short 12th hole and Finsterwald's tee shot landed in tall, clinging rough. He played a beautiful shot and got a par 3 while Snead three-putted for a four.

Misses Two On the next hole Snead missed two short putts after a shot from a trap hit the pin and took a double bogey 6.

Casper took second with a 278 total — the only man besides Finsterwald to break par for 72 holes at Llanerch — while Snead placed third with an even par 280. Jackie Burke, the 1956 PGA champ, came in fourth with 281, then there was a big gap to the 285s posted by National Open champion Tommy Bolt, Julius Boros and Jay Hebert. The defending champion, Lionel Hebert, wound up 15 strokes behind at 291.

Strzyzewski Hurls 6-Hitter to Defeat Joe DeBruin

Kaukauna — The Kaukauna Klubbers dropped their second league game in second half play here Sunday afternoon as Manitowoc moved to a 4-1 decision behind the 6-hit pitching of John Strzyzewski.

Joe DeBruin went all the way for Kaukauna and gave up 12 hits but was tough in the pinch, es permitting the winners to tally only in the second and third innings.

Manitowoc opened the scoring with two runs in the second inning. A walk and three singles in the third inning resulted in two more runs for the winners. DeBruin allowed single hits in the first, fourth, fifth and seventh innings and allowed two in the ninth. All Manitowoc safeties were singles. Two men reached base on walks.

Kaukauna scored its only run in the fifth inning when Carl Bowers doubled and was sacrificed to third by Carl Frank. He tallied minutes later when Joe DeBruin reached first on an error by the pitcher.

Two successive bloopers into right field which went for dou-

The winners got their final two tallies in the seventh when De Young hit another freak double into short right field and Heinbigner blasted his second homer.

New London managed to get only two men on base during the entire game. In the second, Brown singled and went to second on a sacrifice by Russ Rusch, but was stranded by Don Pecard's fly to left field for the third out. In the fourth, Mel Meyers singled but was caught when Drury stabbed Clair Baehman's liner and threw to first for a double play. Sheldon Rusch worked the entire game on the mound for New London, despite getting hit unmercifully. He struck out six and walked only one.

Seymour Council Turns Down Plan For Speed Laws

Seymour — The city council has turned down a recommendation from the state highway commission which would have revised the city's speed limits.

The state had recommended an increase of 10 miles per hour from 25 to 35 from the intersection of Highways 54 and 55 to the intersection of Main and Factory streets and from Pearl street to a point six-tenths of a mile north of the city. Under the plan the present 25-mile-per-hour limit in downtown Seymour would remain.

The council said it felt increased speeds would endanger the life of school children who pass along the highway when school is in progress.

In other action, council voted to join other Wisconsin cities in opposing higher telephone rates. Aldermen approved a $100 donation to a mutual fund set up to fight any increase.

Plan to Point Out Merchants' Projects Adopted by Chamber

A scheme to call attention to building improvements by Appleton merchants has been adopted by the chamber of commerce board of directors.

John Conway, who suggested the plan, was authorized to have signs made which can be placed at the improvements.

Rosemary Menting, route 4, Appleton, and Eugene H. Van Handel, 18, 1519 E. John street, were charged with going 11 and 12 miles an hour, respectively, over a 25-mile limit.

Predict Good View Of Sputnik Rocket Tuesday Morning

A good view of the final stage rocket that launched Sputnik III into orbit is predicted for northeastern Wisconsin early Tuesday morning.

The rocket-satellite is scheduled to come over Lake Superior at 4:15, pass directly overhead here, and cross South Carolina five minutes later.

The Soviet rocket, traveling about 600 miles above the earth, passed over the central Wisconsin area twice this week-end—about 5:55 Sunday morning and about 4:10 this morning. Amateur observers reported that it was clearly visible Sunday, but said cloudy skies hampered vision this morning. In its passage over the area Tuesday morning, it will look like a bright star with its light varying in intensity as it tumbles end-over-end.

Recommend New Public Relations Office

It Would Advise,
Veto Production of
Published Matter

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison—A legislative study committee which has been trying to bring order to a state government printing and publications program described as chaotic has recommended creation of the office of state director of public relations.

The committee, headed by Sen. W. A. Draheim of Neenah, will advise the next legislature that such an officer, with powers to advise and veto, would probably achieve substantial economies in the production of state reports, periodicals, bulletins and mountains of other published matter turned out each year by various state agencies.

The committee several months ago learned from staff researchers that state publishing is now so decentralized that it is virtually impossible even to obtain an inventory of the state's widespread printing programs.

Little Supervision
The state's printing work is now nominally supervised by the state bureau of purchases, which has on its staff an officer known informally as the "state printer."

In practice, however, as the committee has learned, departments largely "write their own tickets" with respect to their publishing activities and are limited only by the amount of money they are granted by the legislature to operate.

The apparent intent of the study committee is to provide control powers in the office of publications director, and to encourage a centralization of editing, art and other services in order to reduce total spending for printed works. Such a functionary could also, as he saw fit, cut down the number of copies of various publications ordered by departments. Instances of piles of unused and wasted materials in warehouses have been related to the legislative investigators.

Ralph Lockey, 227 N. Linwood avenue drove his automobile into the W. College avenue-N. Badger avenue station about 10:20 Sunday night after driving with the emergency brake on had started a fire in the brakes.

Children were blamed for a burning log found and extinguished at Interlake park about 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Cause of fire among railroad ties along the tracks at the south corner of Pierce park about 8:53 Saturday night is unknown. A small boy pulled a fire alarm box to summon call to firemen about 3:30 Saturday afternoon. Firemen put the flames back in the right been moved to planks near the place.

Lawrence D. Radloff, 1523 Palisades drive, and Roy Winter, 2001 N. Rankin street purchased the 21-acre farm early this month and intend to plat the land for residential lots.

Mail will be delivered to curbside by route truck in the 400 block on E. Hoover avenue, 1300 block on Palisades drive, 2000 and 2100 block on S. Gladys avenue and Gregor court. Service to houses will begin in the 2200 block on N. Locust street.

Changes are being made in mail carrier routes in the northwest area of the city. Another carrier also has been added to the area, where increased volume caused late deliveries.

Three Permits for New Homes Issued

A. W. Mueller today received the 138th permit of the year for construction of a new home. He will build a 6-room house, with bath and attached garage, at 1612 W. Packard street for about $12,000.

Earlier, Anthony Battaglia received permits for two new homes. Both will have eight rooms, two baths, two powder rooms and an attached garage. They will cost about $19,000. One will be at 1307 Bartell drive, the other at 2000 W. Pine street.

Post Office to Defer Postage-Due Charges When New Rate Starts

A 5-cent charge for handling postage-due mail, started July 1 by the post office department, will be suspended from Aug. 1 to Nov. 1 because of the coming 4-cent postage rate—a boost of a cent for first class mail.

During the same time a 5-cent service charge for handling postage-due mail with no return address also will be suspended.

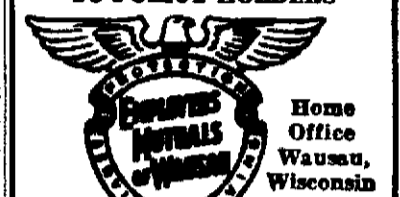

Both charges will be deferred because the department expects people to forget to use enough postage after the higher rate starts.

"Are there any special precautions to take when writing a check?"

Yes - and they are these: Use pen, never pencil; write the amount in words at the far left, and fill in the unused space with a heavy line; write the amount in figures close to the dollar sign; be sure that these two amounts agree; don't erase or make alterations, sign the check only when completed. The "check way" is the safe way to pay; records your spending; gives receipts; saves time and gives added convenience. Open your checking account soon, with us; make full use of it - and observe the precautions suggested above to transfer your hard-earned funds with a maximum of safety.

Heat Fails to Keep Children From Circus

Elephant, Horse Acts Favorites of Crew-Cut Crowd

A good-sized crowd went home just a little sunburned after nearly two hours of squinting into the sun at the Adams Brothers circus Saturday afternoon.

Acts, particularly those featuring animal performers, pleased the large under-10 portion of the audience, but sitting in the open on a warm afternoon eventually made the crew-cut crowd and its female contemporaries restless.

Without a ringmaster, the circus still had the traditional three rings and a cornet, organ and percussion orchestra providing all musical accompaniment.

The act which provoked the most laughs and screams from the young set was Eddie Frisco and his midjet car. The clown careened around the ring and almost into the audience while his car bucked and back-fired.

Animals Supreme

Otherwise, the animals reigned, including the McCall ponies, huskies and monkey and Little Bertha, the 10-year-old Indian elephant.

Bertha had an immediate appeal for the youngsters—just being an elephant. She proved her worth as a performer dancing the hula, saluting the crowd to the strains of "On Wisconsin," catching flags thrown by her trainer and concluding her act with a front handstand on a small platform.

The greatest human crowd-pleasers were the Jordan brothers, featured in the last act of the afternoon, who did balancing and tumbling tricks performed on a miniature trampoline and spring board.

A paper hoop, main prop in their finale, was blown apart by the breeze. The pair finished in grand style, anyway, with just the bare hoop.

Pony Favorite

The favorite of the McCall animals was the "trained and educated" pony Spangles, who answered questions with a shake of his head, counted by tapping his hoof, never failed to pick the right colored handkerchief and even gave his impression of Elvis Presley's version of boogie-woogie.

Others were six huskies with tricks of balancing, jumping through hops and jumping rope and four marching Shetland ponies. A combined act of two ponies, three dogs and a monkey, finishing their act by forming a pyramid on one pony to the tune of "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here."

Clowns, Too

Four clowns, complete with typical ruffles, white faces, red noses and oversized feet, amused the youngsters as they filled in between acts with their routines.

Other acts were two aerialists in bright, brief costumes, a slack wire act from South America and the Carlton family — parents, son and daughter with a western whip and rope show and roller skating display.

The circus gave afternoon and evening performances Saturday at the Outagamie county speedway.

Despite a Hot Afternoon, Kids turned out in full force Saturday for the Adams Brothers circus at Outagamie county speedway, as shown in the top picture. At right, Puffo Cowen, one of the featured clowns, explains his act and how he uses a mousetrap in it to Jim and Dave Winske, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Winske, 1142 E. Jardin street. Sally Klapper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Klapper, Jr., 1136 E. Glendale avenue, adds the autograph of elephant trainer Patricia Couls to her collection in the picture at left. The Law and You

Important to Begin Lawsuits Quickly in Suing City, Village

Ordinarily the Wisconsin statutes of limitations give you plenty of time to consider what action you want to take in legal matters. Time limits for starting lawsuits range from three years for starting personal injury suits to 20 years in some real actions.

But there are some situations in which fast action is essential. You may lose valuable rights if you do not assert them almost immediately.

One of these cases is where you are injured or your property damaged through the fault of a local city or village or its employees. You have a right to sue the city. But you must first file a claim for damages with the city authorities, and you must file it within 30 days of the accident that caused the injury.

Only after the city refuses your claim may you sue. Another situation occurs where someone who owes you money dies. The normal time limitation on suits to recover after his death is six years. But the policy of the state is to wind up the affairs of a person as soon after his death as possible. As a result, you may have as little as three months in which to file a claim against the debtor's estate.

Of course, if your claim against an estate involves a lawsuit and trial, the estate will not be closed until the amount of your claim is determined. This situation might occur if you were involved in an automobile accident in which the driver, who was responsible for the accident, was killed. The important thing is to find out quickly what your rights are and how you may preserve them. If you delay too long, the opportunity to enforce them where someone who owes you money may have passed.
